LILLIENDAHL MURDER CASE JURY IN DEADLOCK

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PRESENTS FLOOD RELIEF PROGRAM

J. R. Balph Dies From Injuries; Struck By Auto

Aged War Veteran Knocked Down By Auto On Highland Avenue

UNCONSCIOUS WHEN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Accident Occurs As Mr. Balph Is Crossing Street After Leaving Car

J. Russel Balph, 83, prominent retired business man and Civil War Veteran, died Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the Shenango Valley hospital, as a result of injuries sustained in the afternoon on Highland avenue, near his home, when struck by the automobile of Ivor M. Richards, 306 Englewood avenue.

Death resulted from a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain, sustained, when Balph's head struck the pavement. Mr. Balph was unconscious from the time of the accident until his death several hours later. An X-Ray taken following his admittance to the hospital, disclosed the fact of the fracture and eliminated the hope of recovery.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell is investigating the accident and inquiry has brought out the fact that the accident was unavoidable.

FLOOD CONTROL PLAN FOR MISSISSIPPI IS GIVEN TO CONGRESS

President Coolidge Transmits Plan To Meet Flood Situation

"Levees Only" Policy To Be Abandoned; Many Features Are Embodied

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Coolidge today transmitted to Congress a comprehensive Mississippi river flood control plan which calls for a minimum expenditure of $296,400,000, and which definitely abandons the "levees only" policy followed by the army engineers for 50 years.

The project, upon which the War Department has been at work since the disastrous deluge of last spring, provides for a system of floodways, spillways and improved navigation channels, as well as strengthening of the present levees and the breaking

Seating Of Vare Up Before Senate For Disposition

Believe Denial Of Oath To Smith Means Same Fate For Pennsylvanian

REED COMMITTEE IS GIVEN POWER

Senate Leaders Hope To Dispose Of Vare Case Before Nightfall

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—With Senator-Elect Frank L. Smith (R) of Illinois, temporarily barred, the Senate today was prepared to put Senator-Elect William S. Vare (R) of Pennsylvania, out on the same sidelines pending a new election inquiry by the famous Reed slush fund committee.

The Senate's action in refusing the oath of office to Smith doomed any hope of the Vare forces that the Pennsylvanian might wear his senatorial toga for the time being. The Vare leaders struggled to convince the Senate that the two cases differed in every respect, but it was certain that Vare, too, would be ordered to stand aside.

Committee Given Power

A significant development of the slush fund crusade was the Senate's action in ordering the Reed committee to undertake the new investigation. This was tantamount to giving a new lease of life to the committee, which was attacked in the courts of Pennsylvania last summer as having died with the 69th Congress. With the present Senate endorsing it, the committee probably will function through until next fall's elections.

Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, chairman, announced he would call the committee together as soon as the Vare case is settled.

"We will ask the Senate to act upon a resolution concerning some things we wish to do before holding any hearings," said Reed.

This resolution probably will authorize the committee to count the ballots cast in the 1926 Pennsylvania senatorial election and seized during the summer. By a recount of these ballots William B. Wilson, Pennsylvania Democrat, hopes to prove he was really elected last November instead of Vare.

The Vare issues were presented to the Senate by the two Reeds. The Pennsylvania Reed said Vare should be seated because there was no fraud in his election, because he was the choice of the people of Pennsylvania, and because, while he spent a large sum of money, there was no illegal expenditure in his behalf. The Missouri Reed declared Vare should be ousted because the "very air is filled with charges of fraud", because he made "outrageous expenditure" of money in his primary and because he won the election by the vote given him in Allegheny and Philadelphia

MOTHER ABSENT; THREE CHILDREN BADLY HURT

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 8.—While Mrs. Steve Strickenberger, of Stobleton, near here, drove her husband to work this morning, their three small children were injured, probably fatally, when a shotgun in the hands of one was discharged accidentally.

George, 12, was shot through the lung and one leg of Bernard, 11, was shot away. Cecil, 1, received part of the charge on one of his legs.

Mrs. Strickenberger, returning home, discovered her injured children's plight and rushed them to the home of a neighbor where she secured medical attention.

Mercury Drops Rapidly In District Over Night; Coldest Day Of Winter

With all the vagaries of a young girl in love for the first time the Weather Man veered around after midnight Wednesday and between that hour and eight o'clock this morning had dropped the mercury twenty-five or thirty degrees.

Folks went to bed in an early autumn climate and woke up next door to the Arctic Circle. At midnight Wednesday it was raining and the air was almost balmy. At eight o'clock this morning a high tenor wind whistled around the corners with steel jacketed points as its outpost.

Radiators Freeze

Over the chill wintry air this morning were heard cries of anguish as motor car owners bewailed frozen radiators and clouds of steam geysering up from radiator spouts testified to frozen innards.

Light fall coats gave way to heavy ulsters, and flapperish harbingers of an early spring tossed their sheer garments into the discard, the while they dug out clothes which may not be as pleasing to the eye but are certainly more comfortable to wear.

By ten o'clock the mercury had staged a feeble but futile effort to rise and had just touched twelve degrees above zero. Coal dealers, whose hopes of a hard winter seemed doomed for a time took on new life and began figuring the tonnage of their reserve piles.

The usual crowd of spectators on the street corners interested in the erection of the two bank buildings seemed to have vanished to the warmer recesses of barber shops and cigar stores and the policemen on the beats stepped along with more than their usual pep.

It's cold if you get what we mean. Goshawful chilly to be more specific and it seems colder because of the unusual and kaleidoscopic change.

Zero Weather For Tonight Is Forecast

Cold Wave Sweeping Out Of Northwest Will Drive Temperatures Down

THIRTY-TWO BELOW AT HAVRE, MONTANA

Considerable Damage Done In Western Pennsylvania By Severe Windstorm

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—A cold wave sweeping out of the northwest will drive thermometers that yesterday stood in the fifties and sixties to five degrees above zero or lower tonight, according to W. S. Brotzman, U. S. meterologist, here today, and will usher in the coldest spell of the present season.

The official government thermometer yesterday registered 60 degrees above, but tumbled overnight to a scant 23, and continued on the down grade throughout the day.

There will be snow flurries and considerable winds with the cold snap, according to Brotzman, but these are expected to abate during the night, ushering in Friday clear and cold.

The coldest spot in the United States today was Havre, Monana, Brotzman said. The thermometer there registered 32 degrees below zero at 8 o'clock this morning, according to the forecaster.

The cold is so general, the forecaster hesitated to say how long the spell would last. He stated, however, that it would continue over Friday and possibly remain throughout the week-end.

Considerable property damage was reported in the Pittsburgh district from the wind storm that accompanied the tumbling of the thermometer here. Trees were uprooted, fences knocked down and telegraph and telephone wires broken. Many signboards were damaged.

Brotzman predicted the thermometer would fall gradually throughout the day until nightfall. After the sun sets, Brotzman said, a decided drop in the temperature may be expected.

VARE'S SUMMER HOME ROBBED

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 8.—Police today were investigating a burglary in the summer home of United States-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania. The house is one of the show places in this section.

Police announced that the exact loss will not be known until Vare returns from Washington. The house had been closed for the winter and contained many valuable works of art and a quantity of silver.

COURTHOUSE, MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 8.—After more than 16 hours of deliberation the jury of five women and seven men trying Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl and her alleged paramour, Willis Beach, for the murder of the woman's aged husband, Dr. William Lilliendahl, was still deadlocked at 10:35 a. m. today.

The jury retired at 5:34 p. m. yesterday, called into the court room by Justice Campbell who had given them 23 hours to reach a verdict the forewoman, Mrs. Carrie Calkins announced this morning that they had been unabel to agree.

"It looks like they are not going to let us go" were the first words of the nervous widow as she heard the jury report.

One Juror Crying.

With the exception of Juror No. 6, Mrs. Ella M. Dietrich, who apepared to have been crying, the jurymen and women gave no outward indication of their feelings. It was recalled that Mrs. Dietrich had been accepted for jury duty despite the fact that she openly declared her opposition to capital punishment. Her eyes were red and tearful.

In response to the judge's query, the five women members said they were as "comfortable as conditions

Snowless Blizzard Sweeps Over Kane

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Dec. 8.—A "snowless blizzard" swept through Kane early today, tearing loose everything that was not tied down and causing considerable property damage.

Telephone and telegraph poles were blown down, trees were uprooted, windows were blown in and other damage was done by the high winds which at times reached cyclonic proportions.

No one was injured by the flying debris.

The thermometer tumbled 27 degrees overnight, falling from 48 degrees to 21 degrees above zero. As the wind veered from the south yesterday.

Little snow fell during the high wind, and today dawned clear.

The service station dealer smiles, and chuckles up his sleeve, this weather does not make him frown, he does not pine or grieve, for as the weather wintry gets, he sees the red line fall, and well he knows the motorist will need some alcohol. For winter blizzards have a way of freezing what they touch, and motorists who do not watch, soon have their car in dutch. But does the service station man, break down and weep a lot, and does he hope for sunny days, he certainly does not. He likes the chill and bitter wind, to hear the blizzards bliz, he knows such weather does him good and helps along his biz. And could he do it, and send it down to deeper depths, he would givethe mercury a shove its only 12 above.

Grand Jury Objects To Erection Of Any Court House Rooms

Wants Commissioners To Hear Testimony On Needs Of New Courthouse

Jury And District Attorney Complimented For Work On Ninety-One Bills

In presentments by the grand jury this morning recommendations that the need for a new court house be investigated, and that no new addition be built to the present court house were made. The latter recommendation was owing to the fact that it is proposed that an addition be erected for an office for the law judge, James A. Chambers, with possibly an office or two to take care of records.

The need of a new court house was presented before the grand jury by former Judge, W. E. Porter, representing the County Bar Association. Judge Porter showed the needs of the county for room to properly carry on the work of the different departments has become so great that the county has found it necessary to rent a number of rooms in the different public buildings.

Public School In Lynn, Mass., Burns

Loss Of $400,000 To $500,000 Is Occasioned By Morning Blaze

(International News Service)

LYNN, Mass., Dec. 8.—Patients at Union hospital were alarmed and residents of the vicinity left their homes early today when fire destroyed the Tracy public grammar school building in West Lynn, causing damage estimated at between $400,000 and $500,000.

Flames from the burning school house reflected on the windows of the hospital and some of the patients left their beds. Nurses ran through the building, however, calming those in the hospital.

Although several small fires were started on the roofs of dwelling houses near the burning school building, the wind prevented embers from falling on the hospital.

It was nearly two hours before the fire was under control.

UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES WILL HOLD NOMINEE'S FATE AT KANSAS CITY CONVENTION

Eastern Leaders Are Left Groping For Candidate To Center Upon

COOLIDGE-HUGHES ARE BELIEVED OUT

Hoover, Dawes And Lowden Are Likely To Be In Thick Of Battle

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A Republican national convention meeting in Missouri next June in which uninstructed delegations will hold the balance of power—and a savage fight between Herbert Hoover and those "frendly enemies", Frank O. Lowden and Charles G. Dawes.

Select Kansas City

This was the picture carried away from Washington today by members of the Republican national committee as a result of the rapid-fire political developments of the last 48 hours, which saw the self-elimination of President Coolidge and Charles E. Hughes and the selection of Kansas City as the convention site.

Mr. Coolidge's erasure of himself from the 1928 picture, and the Hughes announcement that he would neither seek nor accept the nomination, left the eastern leaders groping, confused and without a candidate. The convention next June will be the first in many, many years in which the eastern leaders will be unable to present a serious contender—unless one can be developed within the next few months. Serious contenders, however, are rarely developed in that space of time.

Many Uninstructed

The net result will be, according to the consensus of eastern leaders today, that the large and important

Young Texan Woman On Trial As Bandit

May Start Taking Testimony In Robbery Trial Of Young Texan Co-Ed.

(International News Service)

LAGRANGE, Tex., Dec. 8.—Probability that testimony taking may start today brought a large crowd to district criminal court here as the fourth day of the trial of Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, former University of Texas co-ed and alleged "flapper" bank bandit opened.

Mrs. Rogers is charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup of the Farmers National bank of Buda, Hays county, last December. The case was venued from San Marcos.

There were ten jurors in the box today and prospects were good that the remaining two would be selected early.

Some Damage By High Wind Storm

Reports received by the police last night during and after the terrific wind storm, which occurred here, indicate that some damage was done.

One of the reports received was to the effect that a hill on the Neshannock narrows had caved in and obstructed traffic. Officers Dukes and M. J. Young investigated and placed red lanterns at points that would prevent motorists from running into danger. This morning the street commissioner was notified and made provision to take care of the situation.

A call was received from 827 Arlington avenue to the effect that two telegraph poles were leaning over and endangering the house at that place. The owners of the poles were notified to get busy.

The wind blew off and broke the globe of the curb light in front of the First Christian church, corner of West Washington street and Diamond way.

Seek To Minimize Hunting Accidents In Pennsylvania

Report Fifty-Six Hunters Killed And 212 Injured In 1927 Season

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—A campaign to minimize the toll of deaths due to hunting accidents will be undertaken soon in Pennsylvania as the result of action by representatives of this state who attended the national game conference in New York, it was learned today.

Under the leadership of Adolph Muller of Norristown, the Pennsylvania delegation put through a resolution for a campaign to conserve human life in the principal game states. Muller and his associates pointed out that in Pennsylvania 56 hunters have been killed so far this season, as compared with 46 during the entire 1926 season, while 212 have been injured, as compared with 166 in 1926.

J. R. BALPH DIES FROM INJURIES; STRUCK BY AUTO

ness of the distressing accident. According to Mr. Richards, he had just left his home on Englewood avenue, driving east on that street and had turned south on Highland avenue enroute toward the center of the city.

He had put his car in low gear as he rounded the corner at Englewood avenue, because of the condition of the street. As he reached Highland avenue in front of the W. I. Clark residence, he changed from low to high. This was probably 150 feet from Fairfield avenue and the scene of the accident.

At about this point, he looked up and saw two men get off the street car, which was northbound and had stopped at Fairfield to discharge passengers. He also noticed the street car continue on its way to the end of the line.

He had not attained any great speed, in the change of gears, owing to the fact that there were conditions of the car, which made this impossible.

Notices Men Crossing

He noticed the two men, who had left the street car, start across the street, from the east to the west side. One of the men, whom he believes to be an inspector of the gas or electric company, because of the fact that he saw a flashlight in his pocket got across the street and started west on Fairfield avenue.

As Mr. Richards reached the north side of Fairfield avenue, he noticed Mr. Balph standing about five feet west of the street car track and apparently looking his direction.

Being acquainted with Mr. Balph, Mr. Richards waved his hand in greeting to him, as he had on other occasions, believing that Mr. Balph had seen him and would wait until his car passed. Mr. Balph was probably fifteen feet in front of him at the time.

Then all of a sudden, Mr. Richards saw Mr. Balph running apparently directly at his machine, which was about midway between the curb and the street car tracks.

It was impossible for Mr. Richards to act in any way to avoid striking Mr. Balph, although he did head his machine into the curb in the effort to avoid the accident.

Seizes Radiator Cap

Mr. Balph grabbed the radiator cap of Mr. Richards' machine as he came in contact with the front of the machine. Mr. Richards stopped his machine as quickly as possible and jumped from the car and ran to the injured man.

The legs and feet of Mr. Balph were lying straight between the front wheels of the car and under it, while the upper part of his body was out in front of the machine. The wheels had not run over him.

Mr. Balph was sitting up as Mr. Richards came to him, apparently having raised up after being knocked down. He fell back again as Mr. Richards reached him. His head had evidently hit the pavement with considerable force, as Mr. Richards noticed a bad gash in the back of his head. He pulled off his muffler and placed it on andabout the wound to stop the flow of blood.

Mr. Richards then called for help and the other passenger, who had crossed in safety and started out Fairfield avenue, heard his call and rushed back. He also secured another machine. He and the driver of the other car helped Mr. Richards place Mr. Balph in the machine, Mr. Richards supporting Mr. Balph on the way to the Shenango Valley hospital.

As they were entering the hospital, Mr. Richards, saw Dr. F. F. Urey leaving and asked him to assist in caring for the injured man.

The examination and X-Ray showed that the skull had been fractured.

Investigation developed the fact that the vision of Mr. Balph was not of the best, although Mr. Richards did not know this in spite of the fact that he was acquainted with him.

Mr. Richards is suffering considerable distress as a result of the shock sustained, when he realized the seriousness of the accident. He said this morning that had there been any possible way of avoiding the accident he would have taken it but there was nothing he could do.

Mr. Balph was born September 15, 1844 in Butler county the son of Alexander and Isabelle Russell Balph and was 83 years of age. He came to this city in early life and had been a resident of the city during the balance of his life. During his long life he was one of the city's best known and well liked residents and his sudden death comes as a shock to his many friends.

For many years until his retirement a number of years ago he was one of the more prominent active men of the city in the builders supply business. He was also active in real estate transactions of the city.

During the Civil War he saw service with Company E, 15th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. He was a member of Post No. 100, G. A. R., having served that organization for a number of years as adjutant. He was an active member of the Highland United Presbyterian church.

His wife preceded him in death four years ago. He leaves three children, George R., Mrs. W. K. Hugus and Cassius R. Balph, all of this city, also four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 2511 Highland avenue with his pastor Rev. C. J. Williamson in charge. Interment will be private and will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

the county virtually affect the owners of property, judgments, mortgages and other records, as they are not protected in fireproof rooms. In case the present court house should be destroyed the records would be lost. Should they be destroyed it would be hard to compute the loss, not taking into account the endless litigation that would be necessary to create new records, after the original ones had been destroyed.

The grand jury, through its foreman, C. H. Andrews, stated that it had investigated the conditions named by Judge Porter and found them to be true. It believed that the time has come to erect a new court house, which would furnish adequate room for the proper conducting of the business of the county, and to safeguard the records.

The report further said, "We recommend that the county commissioners take up the matter of a new court house and thoroughly investigate it, that they call before them the county officials and other citizens with a view to obtaining the sentiment of the people, as well as of informing them of the present lack of room and the hazard of keeping vital records of the county in the present obsolete and unsanitary fire-trap building built in 1851.

The jury also reported that it had acted upon 91 bills, of which 76 were found true bills and 15 not true bills. The different rooms and buildings had been visited and found to be well kept.

Croton avenue, from Cascade street to the top of the hill east, was reported to be in bad shap, owing to drainage from the roofs and other buildings which freezes and makes it difficult and dangerous to travel. It was recommended that something be done to remedy this condition at once. During the winter months water running on the street freezes to a height of the curb and sometimes higher.

Court Compliments

In dismissing the grand jury Judge Hildebrand paid a high compliment to its efficiency and the work of District Attorney J. Elder Bryan. "The number of cases acted upon establishes a record," he said. "Usually there are only about half the number of cases as were presented by District Attorney Bryan, and the work generally takes as long as the present jury took in disposing of the cases. This was largely due to the fact that the district attorney had witnesses present and no time was lost in waiting or in the presentation of the cases. "The court said that it has been his custom to compliment all juries, but he thought that this one was entitled to a little extra on account of the work accomplished in a little over three days.

The jury was also complimented on the fact that none asked to be excused, thus showing a disposition to help out with the work of the court.

JURORS IN JERSEY MURDER CASE STILL DEBATING VERDICT

would permit," at the hour they were called to report, they had been deliberating exactly 17 hours and one minute.

They were immediately sent back to the jury room for further deliberation.

Widow Worried.

Mrs. Lilliendahl looked worried, shifting her hands nervously as the jury lined up before Justice Campbell. Beach, who had taken a seat beside her clasped his hands tightly, his face drawn and lips taut.

Reports filtered through from the second floor room of the court house, where the five women and seven men jurors wrangled through the night that the majority favored a verdict of guilty. Two members of the jury stood out for acquittal, it was rumored.

If an agreement is not reached within the 23 hour period set by Supreme Court Justice Luther A. Campbell which ends at 4:45 o'clock today the jury will be discharged.

All the population of Mays Landing that could squeeze into the tiny red brick courthouse was on hand to await the verdict and most of the other residents were standing on the lawn outside staring at the curtained windows of the jury room.

The fate of the black-haired widow and the chicken fancier hangs on the changed testimony of Harry F. Sanderson aluminum ware salesman of Sidney, O.

This became apparent shortly before midnight when the jury returned to the court room and requested further instructions from Justice campbell concerning the failure of defense counsel to cross-examine the state's witness who positively identified Beach as the man he saw near the murder scene on the afternon of September 15.

As the jury resumed its study, Assistant Prosecutor S. Cameron Hinkle, director of the state's case, announced that in the event of a disagreement, he would immediately demand a new trial for the widow and the man who are accused of shooting the aged specialist to death in a lonely lane.

Mrs. Lilliendahl appeared on the verge of collapse as she returned to her cell, leaning heavily on the arm of Sheriff Cimeno for support. Her grief-lined face, plainly showing the restless night she had spent, was in marked contrast to her confident smile at the outset of the trial. Her steps were slow and uncertain, like those of a woman 25 years older.

Contrary to over-night reports, "corridor gossip" later today said the jury is deadlocked 10 to 2 for acquittal.

FLOOD CONTROL PLAN FOR MISSISSIPPI IS GIVEN TO CONGRESS

up of the "bottle necks" at congested points in the river.

Reservoirs to impound flood waters at their source were found "too costly", while reforestation was recognized as having only "supplementary value".

Will Take Ten Years

Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, stated in the report that he believes it will take care of maximum predicted floods and will provide for future expansion to meet changing conditions. The project, he declared, "can be advantageously executed in approximately ten years."

"The estimated cost of flood control works," according to the report, "is $185,400,000, and of channel stabilization and mapping, $111,000,000, a total of $296,400,000," but this would be exclusive of "rights-of-way, incidental drainage works and damages, if any, "which will have to be borne by local authorities.

Cost Distribution

Jadwin recommended "a distribution of costs which the cost of flood control works in general is borne 80 per cent by the federal government and 20 per cent by the valley states, and the entire cost of channel stabilization is borne by the United States." That "would accord with the fiscal policy of the President and the precedents established by Congress."

Reorganization of the Mississippi river commission, federal control over all structures with the natural floodways and a comprehensive mapping —to cost $1,000,000—of the alluvial valley, were likewise recommended.

Essential Features

The essential features of the project follow:

"Floodways from Cairo to Madrid, fram the Arkansas river through the Tensas basin in the Red river, and from the Red through the Atchafalaya basin to the Gulf of Mexico. These will relieve the main channel of the water it cannot carry and lower the floods to stages at which the levees can carry them.

"A controlled spillway to hold the levels down to safe stages at and near New Orleans.

"Local setting back of the levees in the main river at bottle necks to increase its carrying capacity and reduce its flood heights.

"Greater protection against crevasses by strengthening the levee by reducing flood heights through the increased widths of channel afforded by floodways, spillways and setbacks and by moderately raising the levees where needed to meet predicted flood stages."

Man Reports That He Saw Accident

C. H. Richards, 508 Elizabeth street, reported to the police today that he witnessed the accident Wednesday afternoon on Highland avenue in which J. R. Balph was fatally injured. He stated that Mr. Balph was crossing the street and that the car which struck him was not traveling at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred.

The pallbearers were Roy Lane, William R. Cribbs, Leonard Cranson, Jesse Rodgers and George and Arthur Young. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

Peculiar Acting Stranger Taken Across State Line

A Roumanian, whose name was not secured and who claimed to be from Youngstown, was taken into custody this morning in the country district west of the city by County Detective William Fleming when found building a fire up against an automobile.

Detective Fleming brought him to the city police station and turned him over to the local authorities. It was soon evident that he was off mentally and it was decided that he should be taken back to the district, where he claimed residence.

When the local officers were in the act of putting him in the police car to take him over the Ohio line, he suddenly developed an aversion to Officer Charles Longstreth and drew a large knife and attempted to cut the officer. He was disarmed by Longstreth and Lynch and put into the car.

He and Officer Longstreth occupied the rear seat of the machine and twice during the trip to the state line attacked the officer, who was compelled to use force in subduing him. He was finally discharged over the state line and allowed to go on his way.

The man who tires of his wife is the kind who wishes he had ordered what the waiter is serving the fellow at the next table.

It might help if national anthems said less about foul enemies and more about patriotic grafters and taxes.

Bless Your Heart

"Gee, dear, they are beauties. The very shirts I've longed to own for a long time. Well, from now on you can select my shirts for me.

"By the way, I notice you bought them at Winter's. You can't go wrong on anything you buy there, dear. That is the place I buy my clothes and furnishings."

If you want your gifts for him to receive a joyous welcome get them here—you can't go wrong.

WINTER'S

"Gifts Men Appreciate."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

Winter is the pie season. In summer it is generally too warm for such a heavy dessert unless a very light meal be planned. Apple pie is a great favorite, then pumpkin, mince, cranberry, etc., with any number of "open faced" pies with meringue on top, keep mother busy and the family happy. I don't recommend pie for dessere where there are children. Milk puddings, ice vream and gelatine concoctions are better for little folks but an occasional pie especially if eaten in the middle of the day would scarcely harm the older school children. Enough pie crust may be made at one time to make two or three pies enough being used for one and the rest put in the refgrigerator or other cool place to be made up as needed.

Terrible skin now lovely and clear

"AFTER three months of regular treatment," writes Miss A., "I now have the clear complexion I used to dream about and long for. Only the girl who has suffered as I did, with continual eruptions on my face just when I wanted to look my best, can know how I felt. I feel I owe a lifelong debt of gratitude to the friend who told me the best thing to do. There's nothing like it. I tried everything and I know. Lotions and salves help but they don't get at the root of the trouble. Like most skin troubles mine were signs of poison in the body. Nujol cleared those all out in three months. I took a tablespoonful every night. Never missed once. I've got my reward now."

Miss Elsie Reese At Greenwood Church

Mission Worker And Evangelist Drawing Large Congregations At Every Service

ELSIE REESE

Interest and attendance is increasing every evening at the special evangelistic services which opened Monday evening in Greenwood M. E. church with Miss Elsie Reese of New York City as the evangelist.

Miss Reese is one of the strongest girl preachers in the country, beginning this evangelistic work when quite young. Her messages are full of power and all those who have heard her are well pleased with her able sermons.

Miss Reese has a varied experience as a mission worker both in New York City's Chinatown and Philadelphia's Chinatown. She knows what it is to visit humanity that is down and out for the want of shelter and food. She is young in years yet she has gone through some very trying experiences with characters that are down but never out as she claims.

The speaker furnishes fine music at every service. She sings and plays on the song bells which adds much to the inspiration of the service.

These services are for the community and general public.

TO PRESENT PLAY AT COLLEGE CLUB

College club members will have their Christmas meeting Tuesday evening, December 13, at the home of Mrs. E. F. G. Harper, Boyles avenue.

METROPOLITAN "ADVANTAGES"

WHILE British "propagandists" are harassing Mayor Thompson in Chicago, gunmen, gangsters, bandits and second-story men are causing his right-hand man, Chief of Police Hughes, no end of trouble.

In his campaign against crime Chief Hughes caused to be broadcast throughout the city an official bulletin advising the law-abiding fraction of the citizenry how to lock thieves out of their homes and otherwise aid the police in stilling the crime wave. One bulletin for posting in every Chicago home reads:

"When you go out, securely fasten all windows and doors. Install chain locks on front and rear doors to prevent entrance while conversing with strangers. This precaution may save your life. Money, securities and other valuable articles should be kept in a safe deposit box in a reputable bank. Burglars rarely enter a home where a light is burning. The phone number of your nearest police station is ——."

The advantages of a wide-open town where blind pigs flourish and attract the clientele usually associated with lax enforcement of the laws are to be inferred from these instructions. And yet there are towns in this favored land where doors need neither locks nor chains, and where the householder is not in fear of his life when he answers a knock at the door. But such towns are not wide-open by official ukase.

After all the advantages are not all in the big city. Right now there are many who are thankful their homes are not in the Chicago beer-war zone, and no doubt there are many Chicagoans who long for the peace and security of the small city and town.

YEAR OF COMMERCIAL AVIATION PROGRESS

THE FIRST annual report of the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics is a record of amazing progress which amply justifies the prediction that this nation soon will assume the place of supremacy in commercial aviation.

What has been achieved within a year is due largely to the foundations which were laid during a long preceding period, in which the United States air mail operated by the government was the paramount institution. It was during those years that the foundations were laid for aerial trunk lines, that landing fields were developed and day and night lighthouses and signal systems of various kinds installed over thousands of miles of the transcontinental route and its many offshoots. They were firm foundations, better, probably, than those laid by any other nation. On them we have started to build the commercial aviation structure of America under the regulations and the protection provided by the Air Navigation act.

In one year scheduled commercial services were established over routes totaling 2429 miles (the transcontinental line was turned over to the contractor after the time covered by this report), postal contracts were made by the government to carry the mails at prices varying from 50 to 75 per cent of the maximum allowed by law, aerial express was established on five routes totaling 4459 miles, air mail increased 80 per cent in weight, more than 100 new airports were established throughout the country, and aircraft production in the past six months equaled the total for the preceding year.

The air mail contractors opened their service generally at a loss. During the past three months a majority were making expenses and several showed satisfactory profits. When it is remembered that this is only a beginning, that the night markers have not been installed yet on some of the airways on which planes are operating, that the express service is only a few months old and that passenger carrying has not yet been thoroughly organized, there is reason indeed to be proud of a year's achievements. From now on the ratio of increase will be not by additions but by multiples. Already aviation companies are crossing the national borders, and there is a real stimulus for a Pan-American Airway. Service to Cuba undoubtedly will be extended along the island chain of the West Indies as far, at least, as Porto Rico within a short time.

The distinctive feature of all this development seems to be its organization, not as an adjunct to military or naval preparations for warfare, as in Europe, but as an outright business institution that has neither asked nor been given false inflation from any source, governmental or otherwise.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:33. Sun rises tomorrow 7:13.

Nine times out of ten when a person gets in wrong he has no one to blame but himself—but he will not think so nine times out of ten.

Every time a messenger boys rings the door bell most women think somebody is dead.

There is a great big difference in laughing with, and not at.

Nowadays the legs of the boys, chairs and baby grands are not the only legs in the drawing room.

It has always been a mystery to us why people who leave a note saying they have drowned themselves leave their clothes lying on the banks of the lake or stream. Keeping the clothes on would help the operation or whatever it may be, along nicely.

The lady who used to have rings on her fingers and bells on her toes now has a portable radio set.

Over five thousand bills have already been placed on their way to get before congress and they deal with things from dry referendums to immigration. A few little prayers along the line for the safety of our country while congress is in session may be a good thing.

Jonah will tell you that he wouldn't have gotten into all that trouble that time if the whale had kept his mouth shut.

We know of some folks who had a mighty hard time of it in their youth and early life, but those same people try to make it just as hard for their own people as they had it made for them in spite of the fact that they could make things much better for themselves and theirs. There are no pockets on shrouds in which to put money and it would burn up anyhow.

No woman can tell for sure that a book isn't fit to read until after she has read it.

A New York judge has ruled that a poker playing husband who also bet on horse races could not be divorced from his wife for that reason. The judge also said that most men played poker and bet on horse races. So, girls you can see what might happen to you if you are not careful in whom you tie up to.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

An insurance agent was summoned before the commissioner, "Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell insurance without a state license?"

"I knew I couldn't sell it," said the insurance agent, "but I didn't know the reason why."

Because a man and his wife call one another "Dearie" or "Honey" out in company one shouldn't be hasty at jumping at conclusions regarding their home life.

Merchants in other cities claim that people who spend their money in their places of business help them and their cities. And by the same token those who spend that same money at home help their own cities. When the coin is taken away from home it is gone forever—not always for good however.

The American dollar speaks every language it can find in Europe.

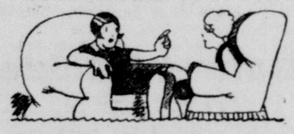

Maybe it's because men are 90 per cent water that they boil so sometimes.

Christmas comes on Sunday this year. This will make it possible for some to take at least three days and perhaps more to properly celebrate it.

A dentist in New Jersey got in bad when he pulled a tooth for a young lady and then let it slip down her throat and it went into her lung. A jury gave her five thousand dollars damages and her papa $1,200 for damages he suffered in paying her bills. That evidently hurt the dentist more than it did the patient.

Pennsylvania added 785 miles of more hard roads to its system last year. Every time we hit a bit of mud road we wonder why any mud road is tolerated any more. Happiness goes with good roads.

Make your plans—if you can afford it of course—to help the other fellow a little bit at Christmas time. It is not supposed to be a selfish season. You will feel better if you know the day does not pass without your doing something worth while for someone.

Nothing is useless, and a husband never gets too ornery to come in handy as a topic of conversation.

An authority on singing says some of the songs sung in this country drive youths to crime. We have felt like reaching for a blunt instrument ourselves at times when he have heard them trying to sing.

We have noticed a funny thing after most all elections in recent years, and that is some people saying they did not know they voted for a Democrat until after the election was over. That does not surprise us a bit, although we know wo do not do it.

Mr. Ford spent over a million dollars in five days in two thousand newspapers in this country and it was a great week for the newspapers and also for Ford.

We have noticed when driving an automobile that there is also some bozo who tries to keep as near to us as possible in the rear and we have often thought that if anything happens those jays would make the loudest yell. A wise driver will keep a respectable distance behind another car, so if there is a skid or any other thing that cannot be avoided the danger will be lessened. But what's the use trying to tell 'em?

THE ADVERTISING DOCTOR

It is not always right to hold back advertising until conditions are "right." Frequently advertising makes conditions right. When a person is sick he needs a tonic or stimulant. The same thing is true regarding business when it is not feeling fit. But the treatment should be prescribed by a recognized physician. In the alchemy of advertising the most competent physician is a recognized advertising agent.

Cable dispatches indicate that Carol ing will not be popular this Christmas in Rumania.

The pedestrian has the right of way when he is in an ambulance.

Recent newspaper advertisements illustrate an almost perfect kitchen, the only thing lacking being a can opener that will really open cans.

Aviation has place the Atlantic in the class of one-way streets.

You can tell a stranger in a village. He is the one who isn't wearing a toothpick after dinner.

The surest way to be supremely happy at Christmas time is to know that everyone will have a Christmas. If there are any forgotten or neglected children you couldn't be very happy. You have an opportunity to help take care of these and everyone should do it. The Rescue Mission Christmas treat provides the way. You can help provide the treat.

Don't condemn the silent man or woman, the ones that say very little. It is the stomach that never lets you know it is part of the body that is the one worth having.

Apparently there is only one way to acquire wisdom, but when it comes to making a fool of yourself you have the choice of a million ways.

To a girl of seventeen a fur coat represents heaven and cotton stockings hell.

About one marriage in seven ends in the divorce court but still it is that one that gets the notoriety. The six that are happy and congenial are seldom heard of.

Married men earn more money than single men some surveyors have found, but there is nothing strange in that. There would be something doing if they didn't.

A barber in Pittsburgh charged a customer from the country $2.50 for a hair cut and shave. That man must have dreamed he was working in Atlantic City or some other robber's den. But the police got this fellow and rightly so.

A great many people who cashed their 1927 Christmas checks immediately opened new accounts for 1928 with part of the savings. There is never hard times for the person who saves part of his cash, and if you have been fiddling it all away start now and help provide for the future.

We wonder if Ruth will be sending home any of the $1000 a week she is reported to be making on the vaudeville stage.

A young girl over in the coal country offers to marry any man who will finance their home debts to the amount of $9000 and relieve them of poverty. A picture of the girl shows that she wouldn't be hard to take, but when $9000 are needed that eliminates a lot of men.

Don't become discouraged if you make a mistake. One or two doesn't matter. It is the general average that counts.

Eighty seven per cent of the bachelors of the United States own cars. Just think of the pleasure they have without the driving from the rear seat.

Optimists are said to live longer than pessimists and we hope they do. We know some pessimists that are good and healthy, they don't own cars, don't drink poison booze or run with the cutting-up girls. We just don't know how to get rid of them and they might live forever.

We wonder if the people who predict the end of the Ford jokes are a little premature.

Who would have supposed that wind could damage Washington, D. C., after all these years.

Today

In Fair Kansas.
Her Chevrolet Heaven.
Talk or Action.
Farmer, Stick.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

NEWTON, Kas., Dec. 8.—This city, with farms all around it, sees the end of another peaceful day. Thousands of automobiles park at a slant, along wide streets, front bumpers touching iron railings where buggies were hitched in old days. No buggies now, before the hardware shop, the drug store or the bank.

This train bound for the Pacific, over the Santa Fe, goes through mile after mile of level corn fields, stalks standing, grain husked, carried away. Modern methods could transform those surplus cornstalks into news print paper or imitation silk dresses of excellent quality. That will happen and some day the farmer may live to see his cornstalks worth more than his corn.

Kansas City, "back east", wants the 1928 Republican convention, thinks Republicans should house the mid-west to please farmers.

San Francisco, "out west" looking through the Golden Gate toward Asia, wants the convention and means to get it.

This is a big country, wide and great. Kansas City knows San Francisco, Portland, Me., knows Miami, as little as Peking knows Paris.

But inside our boundaries, everything is united, no tariff walls separate the 48 united nations, brotherly competition makes them all more efficient.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest for Miss Vivian Houser of Kansa City are these: "They stole my Chevrolet." Every day that Chevrolet took Miss Houser to work at the Brockett Cement company, 2035 East Nineteenth street, and brought her back every evening. She and her best friend friend, Dorothy Kilgore, drove about to get the air and on Sundays spent the day out doors. No wonder Miss Houser advertises this appeal to the thieves, "Please leave Chevrolet coupe taken Monday night where it may be found. My only heaven."

A human being without an automobile is like a bird in a cage. Perhaps Mr. Sloan, president of General Motors, will help Miss Houser to get another "heaven".

Congress opens with 5,400 new bills introduced. Congressman McLeod of Michigan wants a national referendum to repeal the prohibition amendment. He won't get it.

Congressman Oliver of New York wants each community to decide how much alcohol makes a beverage "intoxicating". He won't get that.

Congressman Niedringhaus of Missouri would change the Volstead act to permit the manufacture of 2.75 alcoholic beverages, meaning light beer. He won't get his wish.

The big things before the congress are Colorado river power and irrigation, control of Mississippi and other floods, construction of waterways connecting the lakes with the gulf and the ocean, and the question of tax reduction.

Next fall you will know how much of this congress was talk, how much action.

Senator Capper's able newspaper, the Topeka Capital, quotes this statement: "The farmer fears he is on the downward road to peasantry, wonders why he should stick to the plow and hold his children to a calling stigmatized everywhere."

Two million farmers have quit the farms during the last six years. You feel as you cross Senator Capper's beautiful state of Kansas, that many of the two millions regret it. A Kansas farm just outside the car window now, with hay stacks, straw stacks, piles of cornstalks, a good barn, hen house, pigsty, cattle and horses in the field, and an automobile in the shed, are a considerable improvement on the small flat four flights up in a New York City side street.

This is a city man't advice to the farmer:

Stay on the farm where you really live. The company of cows, horses, pigs, sheep and the wide sky is better than associating with crowds in the subway twice a day. Work until you get an independence even late in life. Then take it to California or the gulf coast of Florida, let sunshine add 20 years to your life. Even then you will miss the old farm, the barnyard in winter, the pig that runs, grunting, at your step. The busy day in spring, the consciousness of creating real wealth and of being your own boss.

OIL

From the time a few short years ago when a scum was first observed on certain pools and streams to the present day, the petroleum business has made enormous strides.

It now represents billions of dollars and supports many vital industries.

One has only to stand on the street corner in the center of any of our large cities and observe the unceasing stream of motor cars to realize what the cessation of the oil supply would mean. All these cars would disappear over night, and the whole aspect of our civilization would change.

And this is not all of it. Oil burning steamers are somewhat in vogue now and there are battleships which burn oil. It would probably be impossible for air craft to use any other kind of fuel, as no substitute for gasoline light enough has been discovered.

The movement for the conservation of our oil supply therefore is not to be determined merely by the demands of the trade or the needs of those who are in it to make money, for the whole public is dependent upon it.

As far as we can see, the utilization of gasoline is increasing constantly. Bus systems are spreading throughout the country, and one company announces a trans-continental but service in the near future.

The air ship industry is still in its infancy and airplanes are multiplying daily. There is no let-up to the production of automobiles. Countless new cars are produced every year.

All this depends fundamentally upon what is a precarious thing, after all, the supply of petroleum in the earth. There is no cock-sure prevention for the exhaustion of the supply. Whether it is a matter for the federal government to take up or whether it had better be left to the producers, experts alone can say.

But these gentlemen should be reminded that the public is interested in this matter as well as the individuals, and some means should be devised at once to conserve our fast-vanishing oil supply.

Tomorrow—Cancer.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WORTH WHILE SPORT.

November and December are the months which hunters of game birds enjoy the most. In New Jersey and New York, every back woodland and swamp that provides good cover for woodcock and black duck has at this time of the year its hopeful visitors. The woodcock's flight seems this year to have been a little late, but hunting authorities say that these birds migrate by date and not by season.

A day at this time of the year, behind a clever dog with a couple of good sportsmen is well worth while, but those who wish to find the woodcock must have a friend to take them to some likely woodland or must know their own shooting ground. Woodcock hunters are a secretive lot. They keep their hunting grounds a deep mystery and are as hard to draw out as their game is to bag.

They disappear by motor early in the morning; hide their car away in some deep and swampy forest, where the only other visitors are the distillers of applejack and their partners in trade, our friend the retail distributor, and start out on their search. They usually "hie in" their dog along the fringes of the forest clearings and near small waterways furnishing neighboring puddles or leading from small woodland marshes.

They tramp all day long, scramble through birch thickets and deepest laurel, climb mountains, drag through marshes, wade streams and face every obstruction which the woods can offer. When they finally get their dog "at a point" and flush their bird, they find their arms tied down by briars and small growth and their woodcock whirring away through the thicket.

The average State Law makes the bag limit for one day four woodcock; possibly the hunters obtain their four, after a hard day's work. Returning, they are certain to insist that they shoot for the joy of it, because woodcock shooting is the hardest in the world. There is no more sporty bird inhabiting the American woods.

It would be surprising to know how many men go in for this sort of thing who are old stars in football. When these men are willing to forego a great game on a Saturday afternoon for the sake of a day in the woods, there is still "hope in Israel." For the men who continue to love the outdoor life after they grow older, form the backbone of every nation.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

DESCRIPTION

He drove at thirty miles an hour
Along a busy street,
His pace he kept and almost swept
A lady from her feet,
He broke a dozen traffic rules,
Because he saw no cop
He jammed his way, where signals say
All motorists must stop.

I saw him later at the club
Where golf I go to play,
And still he thought that people ought
To keep out of his way.
He drove his golf ball up to men
Much finer far than he,
Nor did he care to ponder there
That injured they might be.

I fancy that at home his folks
Must scurry from his path,
His way to get, this man I'll bet
Lets loose a storm of wrath.
And while with him I've never been
An evening dinner guest,
I'll venture that of lean or fat
He serves himself the best.

ROMANTIC BIOGRAPHY

The English-reading public became tired of cosmic tales and movements of worlds, immediately after the close of the World War. The people tired of trying to grasp big situations, involving nations and races. For years they had been fed upon propaganda that had as its object the creation of widespread admiration and love for our allies and associates in the war, and hatred for our enemies. The people turned to more personal things, as soon as they were released from the patriotic necessity for hating and loving in wholesale lots.

So the interest in biography and in personal narratives grew rapidly. We are still in the midst of the era of biography, autobiography, personal confessions and adventurous tales resulting from this revulsion of popular taste.

One of the most interesting phases of this popular interest in biography is the great amount of reading of romanticized biography, or biographical novels.

Some excellent tales of all the interesting great persons of all time have been written and widely read. Many of these tales stick very close to history. Others are completely dominated by the garment of romance that the writer has put upon his characters.

I believe this kind of biographical romance writing is an excellent thing. It tends to make the lives of interesting historical characters easier for the multitude to read. And in many cases the story that the novelist writes is true. That is to say, the character as brought out by the man of imagination, working free from the restrictions of documented history, is closer to the original than the same character as painted by the un-imaginative historian who never ventures beyond very cold fact. One needs imagination to re-create characters out of the past.

"The Joyous Friar" is an excellent example of the kind of romantic biography I have reference to. It is a romantic story of the life of Fra Filippo Lippi, the master painter, who was adorning the walls of cathedrals and chapels in Italy with undying art during the years when an obscure fellow named Christopher Colombo was tramping about Europe, seeking a patron who would help him outfit an expedition to reach the Indies by sailing west.

Filippo Lippi lived a romantic life. His great love affair was full of tragedy and of joy, and has become one of the classic loves of history. A. J. Anderson has made a beautiful picture of his romance, in "The Joyous Friar," a biographical novel which may be as true as any history.

Remus Trial Is Resumed Today; Darrow Present

Famous Chicago Criminal Lawyer Pays Visit To Slayer In Prison Cell

HAS KNOWN REMUS FOR MANY YEARS

Truesdale, "Surprise Witness", Resumes Witness Stand At Trial Opening Today

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—Clarence Darrow, famous attorney, came in criminal court today to help his old friend, George Remus, on trial for the murder of his wife, Imogene, escape the electric chair.

Remus wept when Darrow visited him in his cell shortly before court was called to order. Remus threw his arms around Darrow and cried:

"My friend, this is wonderful of you. Wonderful! I can never repay."

Promptly at 10 o'clock Remus, accompanied by his red-haired daughter, Ramola Remus, came into the crowded courtroom. Every seat was taken. The appearance of Darrow drew the largest crowd for the trial. Hundreds of men and women milled about the corridors.

"I'm nervous, but otherwise I feel pretty well," said Remus, whose emotional spree yesterday caused the abrupt halting of the trial. "I hope I do not discommode the judge or the jury any more.

Darrow visited Judge Chester R. Shook in his chambers for a few minutes and met members of the prosecutor's staff, including Charles P. Taft, son of Former President William Howard Taft.

And then, as if accentuating the drama of the situation, Harry Truesdale, the sullen-faced gunman of Hamilton, O., resumed the witness stand.

Truesdale is the "surprise" witness who yesterday testified that he had been bribed by Mrs. Remus for $10,000 to kill Remus. It was this testimony that broke Remus down. Truesdale said Mrs. Remus paid him $250 expenses and agreed he would get the rest of the money when Remus was "bumped off".

She said, according to Truesdale, that she was to pay $5,000, Franklin L. Dodge, her alleged paramour, the other $5,000.

UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATES HOLD NOMINEES' FATE

delegations east of Chicago will go to the convention uninstructed or prepared to cast their votes in the early balloting for favorite sons.

Mr. Hughes could have had the New York and Pennsylvania delegations, a neat block of 169 votes at the outset. He was to have been New York's candidate, with the backing of Andrew W. Mellon, whose wishes will guide the Pennsylvania delegation.

Now, however, it is probable New York will go to the convention unbound ,while Pennsylvania will cast its votes for Mellon as a favorite son. Similarly with other large eastern contingents. Massachusetts' 39 votes probably will be held for Governor Alvan T. Fuller; Ohio's 51 probably will go to Senator Frank Willis and so on. Of course, the preferential primaries are still to be considered, but the Middle and Far West, rather than the East, is the land where the primary lives and thrives.

President Out of It

Friends of Mr. Coolidge say that the President intends to keep "hands off" the fight. They say he intends to sit back on the sidelines occupying the role of an intensely interested spectator. To this some political leaders retort "perhaps". The coolness between Mr. Coolidge and General Dawes is an open secret in Washington. And there never has been any love lost between Mr. Coolidge and Governor Lowden. On the other hand, Mr. Hoover is a member of his cabinet, and a trusted adviser and personal friend.

The leaders could see today but little if any advantage to any candidate in the choice of Kansas City as the convention site. Hoover's friends joined with those of Dawes and Lowden in sending the convention to the banks of the Missouri instead of to the Pacific slope.

The only residue of the inter-city fight was that of resentment directed at William M. Butler, the national chairman, whose manipulation of the southern members of the committee kept the convention from going to San Francisco. The far westerners are pretty bitter at Butler, but the fact that he will lay down the chairmanship as soon as the nominee is selected at Kansas City made the fact of only passing political importance.

Plea For New Trial.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The fight to gain a temporary senatorial seat for William S. Vare (R) of Pennsylvania, resolved itself today into a plea to the senate for a new trial of the Pennsylvanian on the slush fund charges raised against his primary campaign.

The Vare forces pleaded with the senate to seat Vare for the time being so he might lead his own defense. They also demanded a new hearing for him before the senate committee on privileges and elections, while opposing further inquiry by the Reed slush fund committee.

Senator McLean (R) of Connecticut, opened the second day's debate with his plea.

"GREAT SUCCESS IN OUR HOME"

Father John's Medicine Again Proves Its Value—For Colds, Coughs and Body Building

"We use Father John's Medicine with great success continually in our home" writes Miss Helen Boles of 1024 Fourth Street, Minneapolis, Minn., in a recent letter.

For colds and as a preventive of the more serious ailments which so often develop from the cold Father John's Medicine has come to be the standard home medicine in countless homes from coast to coast.

For over 70 years this medicine has proved its value and it is worth knowing that there is absolutely no alcohol nor nerve deadening drugs of any kind in any form in Father John's Medicine.

Its food elements build new strength.

Would Appropriate $60,000 To Battle Japanese Beetle

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—An additional appropriation of $50,000 for fighting the Japanese beetle, which has been devastating Pennsylvania gardens, orchards and lawns, is contained in the urgent deficiency appropriations bill now being considered by the house of representatives.

Pennsylvania is now spending $50,000 a year in its efforts to eradicate this destructive pest, and the United States government is spending some $500,000 a year on its fight to prevent the spread of the beetle.

The Japanese beetle has particularly affected following counties in Pennsylvania: Berks, Bucks, Carbon, Chester, Columbia, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Luzerne, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Philadelphia and Schuylkill.

This money will be added to the fund already available to try to prevent the spread of the beetle and much of it will be spent in Pennsylvania to keep the beetle from traveling to other counties in the state.

Suspended Sentence For Bradford Man In Killing Of Youngster

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa., Dec. 8.—William W. Nunemaker, proprietor of a bookshop here, today was under suspended sentence of from 2 to 4 years in the Auburn, N. Y. state prison, after he pleaded guilty to manslaughter in second degree. He was fined $1,000.

Nunemaker first pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Little Valley, N. Y., in connection with the death of Edward Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes of Bradford, who was struck by Nunemaker's car. An hour and a half later, he appeared before the court and changed his plea to guilty.

Sentence was suspended because of previous good behavior.

Darrow Testifies In Remus' Behalf

Truesdale Tells Court Further Details Of Plot To Murder Remus

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURT HOUSE, CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—Testimony of Clarence Darrow, internationally famous lawyer, that the reputation of George Remus as a practicing lawyer in Chicago was good and the assertion of Harry Truesdaye, sullen-faced gunman of Hamilton, O., that Mrs. Imogene Remus laid in wait for Remus with a pistol in her hand were the high spots of the Remuse trial today.

Remus shot and killed Mrs. Remus on October 6 last the day after Truesdale related details of the alleged plot in which Truesdale was to have killed the renowned bootleg king.

Truesdale told the court and jury further details concerning his employment by Mrs. Remus to kill her husband. She had offered him $10,000, half of it to be paid by Franklin L. Dodge, her reputed paramour, he said. It was a continuation of the testimony that yesterday completely unnerved Remus and sent him from the court room in a hysterical condition.

Fear For Lives Of Six Workmen Trapped On Wave Lashed Pier

(International News Service)

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Dec. 8.—With the momentary fear that the flimsy shack they are occupying far out on the government pier here may be swept into the waters of Lake Ontario, hope waned today of rescuing six repair men trapped on the pier when a 100 mile gale lashed the lake fifteen feet above its normal level. The six workmen had started out during the storm to repair a damaged section of the pier when caught by the full blast of the gale and forced to seek refuge in the shack. Water was soon running three feet deep over the pier and with a tremendous sea still running today, it is feared the men will be lost.

Twenty-Five Dogs, Six Cats Missing

Phillips Accounts For Them In Saying They Were Burned At Plant

There are 25 less dogs and six less cats in New Castle, according to Howard Phillips, in charge of the garbage plant. This number of dogs and cats were cremated after being killed.

During November garbage fell off, but 475 tons were collected by city truckmen and burned.

SCHOOL AND BOROUGH NEWS OF BESSEMER

Mr. Nord, principal of New Wilmington High, spoke for Chapel exercises at Bessemer school on Dec. 1. His topic was "The Growth of Education in Bessemer.

In securing Mr. Nord for chapel exercises Mr. Colton literally "killed two birds with one stone," because Mr. Nord is not only a good speaker, but also an old friend, having grown up in Bessemer and having taught for a time in the High School. In his address Mr. Nord brought back memories of the one roomed school house and told of the gradual improvement in school facilities, until at present, the schools are as well equipped as any school in a town the size of Bessemer in this country.

The Girls's Glee Club an organization existing this year for the first time, made its initial bow for Mr. Colton's program.

The High School Orchestra, it will be noticed, grows better and better.

Its selections are always well received.

HONOR ROLL

Reports have been handed out for the second six weeks work. The Honor Roll, which has been posted on the buletin board in the hall is as follows:

Seniors: Ida Mae Beale, Oliver Engle, Lynnford Groce, Harry Howard, James Williams.

Juniors: Mary Dujmovic, Henry Mack, Tony Copezutto, Helen Eakin.

Sophomores: Jacob Levinson, Helen Mackey, Denny Radan, Mildred Olson.

Ninth: Nicholas Brentin, Taito Puromaki, Joe Wolfe, Jane Gilmore, Frances Griffin, Mary Seitl, Vera Sepic, Eleanor Throop, Leona Van Tassel.

Eighth: Ellen Yarvin, Dorothy Engle, Lila Corpi, Florence Anderson, Bernice Anderson Eugene Valentine

Seventh: Justina Vodusek, Margaret Irvin, Mary Bobyanchich, Pauline Prohart.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

One event that will stand out during the school term of 1927-28 is the Alumni Banquet which was given last Tuesday to the football squad. More than seventy people were present, the alumni, faculty, school board all were hearty in their congratulations to the team. An excellent dinner was served by the Domestic Science department of the high school. The sisters of the football players served as waitresses.

After the banquet Mr. Winters acted as toastmaster. A very interesting program had been worked out. Music for the evening was furnished by Mr. Martin, Miss Smith, and Charles Grist. The main speaker of the evening was Mr. Montgomery. Others who responded to the call of the toastmaster were several prominent men of the alumni, faculty and school friends. Coach Allen and all the senior men of the team gave short talks.

For several years there had not been an Alumni-Football Banquet. The renewal of the custom seems to have met with the approval of all.

FOOTBALL SWEATERS

Sometime before Christmas you will, no doubt, see ten football men sporting new red and black sweaters. The sweaters were ordered last Monday. The sweater, itself is to be black, and the large letter B upon it is to be red.

HISTORY DRAMATIZED

For several weeks the History Club, during activity period have been dramatizing bits of early American history. This last week the subject was "Early Explorers." Such scenes as Ponce de Leone finding the fountain of youth, Sir Walter Raleiph placing his cloak before the queen, and others were dramatized.

NEW ORCHESTRA

A new orchestra, playing "jazz" music almost exclusively, and seemingly playing it well, has been organized, chiefly through the offorts of Mr. Lukkarila. It is made up of four saxophones from Hillsville, two trumpets, a tenor banjo, a violin, drums, and a piano, all Bessemer talent. This orchestra plays an entirely different style of music from that of any mixed orchestra in or near Bessemer.

"If promises hold good," someone was heard to say, "we will be broadcasting before very long.

REDIGIOUS PICTURES

For the last two weeks instead of the regular evening services Rev. Engle, of the Bessemer Presbyterian church, has given illustrated lectures on the Life of Christ.

The first of the series of these lectures given November 27, was about John the Baptist. The second of the series, given the following Sunday evening was about the Birth of Christ.

FALL FROM TREE PROVES FATAL TO SEWICKLEY MAN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Charles Gray, 53, president of the Graham Bolt and Nut company of Pittsburgh, died today at the Sewickley Valley hospital from injuries received when he fell from a tree he was pruning at his home at Coraopolis October 15 last.

A splinter lodged in Gray's thigh caused a blood-clot which proved fatal physicians stated.

Oil City To Meet Y. M. C. A. Saturday

Volley Ball Will Be Feature Of First Inter City Meet Of Season

That Oil City will likely bring with them a volley ball team that is rated as being fifth best in the United States when they come to New Castle to hold an inter city meet with New Castle Saturday, December 10 was the statement made this morning by Walter Kirker physical director at the New Castle Y. M. C. A. This team, says Kirker will play a local business mens' team.

Most of the other events carded for Saturday it is stated will be for boys.

Mr. Kirker wishes to compliment the men who have made such perfect attendance this week in the senior department. All classes are working at capacity now and so far this week over 100 men have used the department.

Jinx Follows This Family

(International News Service)

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Dec. 8. — The Martin Kuzena family here believes a particularly malignant Jinx hovers over its home. Three members of the family fell victims to accidents in one day.

Leo, 5, fell from a stepladder, injuring himself shortly before word came from a local colliery that Kuzena had been injured, by falling timber at the working, and a short time later John, 3, fell from a highchair and injured his head.

"I Recommend It To My Friends!"

The old adage about the value of "an ounce of prevention" certainly applies in the care of your complexion. Charming women everywhere, like Mabel Edinger of Brooklyn, N. Y., use Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream to prevent weathering of the skin and to keep it youthfully smooth and lovely.

"I use Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing) Cream and find it most satisfactory," says Miss Edinger. "I never hesitate to recommend it to my friends!"

The pure, snowy cream disappears instantly, leaving an invisible film of protection against the darkening, darsening effects of sun and wind, and preserving the natural, beauty-giving oils and moisture. It whitens and refines the skin, too, and provides an ideal powder base.

Black and White Beauty Creations are of a quality acceptable to those who seek the best, at prices within the reach of all—25c and 50c.

One of Barney Google's lodges of Billy Goats is defunct. Gone, busted up and totally dead. And a lot of youngsters in Bessemer who were members in good standing are mourning for their secret fraternity.

Sometime ago, when Barney Google was just starting his Order of Billy Goats, a group of lads in Bessemer conceived the idea of having a chapter. They organized and in looking around for a meeting place, found an old deserted house out from the town.

One room was entirely boarded up, doors and windows alike. A hole was cut in the ceiling and entrance to the "sanctum sanctorum" was effected by climbing a ladder to the second floor and dropping through the trap.

All went well until somebody found a jub of wine somewhere and took it into the lodge room. You know how it is, sometimes the secrets of a lodge are carried home and it was so in this case.

Unfeeling officers swooped down upon the place and raided it, taking the boys before a peaceofficer. As they filed before "Hizzoner" each one of them solemnly gave the distress signal of "Baa-a-a-a". But the trial officer wasn't a member and their plea for help failed miserably.

He did have some of the milk of human kindness however and discharged the lads after a warning to them to cut out the fraternal secret stuff, especially when they had to use wine to help it along.

Boy, page Billy De Beck.

OK M-N-X. Baaa-a-a-a.

Harper Montgomery is a very meticulous sort of a lad. Oh very. He knows his orthography and the sign on the south side of the Scottish Rite Cathedral lawn pains him much. The sign reads, "No Tresspassing."

New Wilmington is due for a heavy visit by Santa Claus if the requests of a group of Westminster College girls are followed out. Just a few afternoons ago a group of them visited one of the local stores where Santa was hanging out and made known their wants. Everything from compacts to sables, and the old gentleman promised them all very seriously that he would take care of them.

The girls learn young these days. A four year old miss was visiting with her mother in a North Hill home on Tuesday, in which home there was a four year old boy. After the visitors had been there for several hours the mother announced that they would leave. The little miss, four years of age got her coat, and holding it out to the four year old lad said, "here boy friend, don't you want to hold my coat."

On a day like this can you imagine a job much more chilly than being a Salvation Army lass on the street corner, with a Christmas kettle, collecting coins for the Christmas feed?

Identify Gang In 33 Hold-ups

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Identified as having participated in 33 holdups in western Pennsylvania, five members of the bandit gang led by 16-year-old Josephine Narr, were linked today with six additional robberies in eastern Ohio.

Steubenville, O., authorities advised local police that the car used by the gang was stolen from J. J. Watson there on November 29. West Virginia police also want the bandits for the robbery of M. Wisenthal of the Weirton Steel Co. in Wellsburg.

It is not known whether the girl took part in the robberies outside of Pittsburgh, but police have her confession to those here.

Woman Admits Killing Husband

PERRY, O., Dec. 8.—A grand jury was expected to be called here today to investigate an allege confession of Mrs. Velma West, 21, said to have admitted to police she killed her husband, Edward, 26, with a claw hammer.

Police said the woman blamed domestic quarrels for the killing. She admitted binding her husband, and then battering his head until it was mangled almost beyond recognition, the officers said.

After the slaying, according to the police, the woman went to Cleveland where she attended a bridge party and went shoping with friends the next day. Mrs. West had phenomenal luck at the bridge party, her associates in the game told the authorities.

Home-made, but Ends Coughs In a Hurry

A family supply of dependable cough medicine. Easily made and saves about $2

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up at night with a hoarse cough, and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, if desired. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes with an ease and promptness that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Boston and J. M. Wallace were visitors of the troop at this meeting. Scoutmaster R. F. Davis and Assistant Scoutmaster Howard F. Bott were in charge. This meeting was a very successful one.

After the business meeting, plans were completed and instructions given by Scoutmaster Davis for the journey the troop is to make to New Bedford, Thursday, December 8, to compete with the New Bedford troop 1, in the following subjects: Fire by friction, fire by flint and steel, signaling, Indian Sign Language and may making. At a later date, the New Bedford troop 1 will compete with troop 18 at New Castle.

During the course of the meeting John Thompson and David McBride passed tenderfoot tests.

The meeting was closed by the playing of taps.

Scribe, Bill Brown.

Mr. Burrows is an outstanding speaker and prominent in the councils of the National Automobile Dealers Association and his coming is looked forward to with interest by the local automotive men.

Carnegie Company Plans Annual Christmas Treat For Host Of Children

Again, when the day before Christmas comes around, 5,000 children of New Castle will have sufficient cause to be happy, for that is the day when the New Castle plant of the Carnegie Steel Company will distribute their annual treat to the kiddies of their employees.

The treat is an annual affair, and it has been an event in the plant for about 15 years, according to Clarence J. Miller, who is one of the committee in charge of the treat.

First, a large Christmas tree will be erected and decorated at the Carnegie auditorium, and then the committee will box the candy and pack the fruit which is to be given to the children.

Heading the committee in charge of the treat is R. J. Tully, general superintendent of the mill, and it is comprised of the following department heads: J. C. Taggart, C. H. Hilborn, A. L. Hilborn, D. B. Woolcock, R. C. Melvin, J. K. Heess, J. M. McMillen, J. C. Allen, Thomas Trodden, E. J. Blanning, George R. Brown, R. B. Davenport, C. D. Mills, C. B. Phillips, J. C. Miller, C. R. Hughes and Clarence Miller.

As in former years, Santa Claus will be played by Allissio Ciambotti and the auditorium will be open from nine o'clock in the morning to five o'clock in the afternoon so that the children will not have to stand out in the cold.

The boys in the electrical department, Mr. Miller states, will have charge of wiring the tree, as well as making popcorn balls.

Tickets which will admit one to the auditorium and to the treat have been given out by George Bechtol.

Many Contractors To Bid On Wampum Viaduct On Monday

Thirty-three sets of plans and specifications have been delivered by County Engineer C. H. Milholland to prospective bidders on the Wampum-Chewton viaduct, the bids of which are to be opened at the Lawrence county commissioners' office on Monday, December 12.

The plans call for the construction of 4200 feet of bridge and highway from the main street of Wampum over the P. & L. E. tracks, Beaver river and the B. & O. tracks, thus connecting with the highway to Chewton and Ellwood City.

Much interest has been taken by contractors and Mr. Milholland said that several times he has been compelled to print new plans to supply the demand. It is not likely that bids will be made by all 33 of the contractors that have asked for plans and specifications but there will undoubtedly be around 20 brought before the county commissioners when they meet Monday next.

Calves Weighing 30 Tons Are Auctioned

Six Lawrence County Animals In Mercer Baby Beef Show

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 8.—The largest tonnage of cattle ever sold at a baby beef sale in the east is that of today at the sixth annual sale of the Baby Beef club of Mercer county held at the fair grounds when 60,000 pounds, 30 tons of beef was auctioned off to the highest bidder.

There were 60 head of cattle included, each animal averaging 1,000 pounds in weight. Prefacing the sale the animals were adjudged and prizes awarded.

The animals averaged one year in each. The plan of operation of the beef club is to take the calves when a month old and by forced feeding methods develop them to the highest weight possible. They are sold at this time of the year to furnish beef for the Christmas trade.

A car load of the animals are always bought by an Erie concern and shipped to New York. A car load is also shipped to Pittsburgh.

The number of animals sold today breaks all records of sale here.

The animals were judged by Morris Schaffner of Erie, well known meat packer. They were auctioned off by Robert Peebles of Slippery Rock.

There were buyers here from all parts of Western Pennsylvania.

There were six head of Lawrence county and five of Venango county calves included in this sale.

Silk Stockings Threaten Peace Of Congregation

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 8. — Silk stockings threaten the peace of the congregation of St. James Lutheran church here.

A motion presented at a meeting of the Mite Society of the church, that a small curtain be placed around a balcony to screen the sheer hose of feminine members of the congregation, brought heated discussion. One young lady was quoted as saying, "What do you think we pay good money for silk hose for if we don't want them to be seen?"

Little Green Capsule Stops Rheumatic Agony

One Every Hour for Ten Hours and Relief is Almost Certain

Often In Five Days, Even the Tenderness is Gone.

Every once in a while a real discovery is made in medical history—one that benefits a host of unfortunate people.

And now it's the patient men and women who have long suffered the torturing rheumatic agony of pain racked, swollen joints whose turn has come—who have drawn the prize.

The fame of the little green capsule, because of its canny power to speedily stop the terrible rheumatic pains that make life almost unbearable, is rapidly spreading all over America.

You go about conquering your merciless rheumatic enemy in a different way—a knock-out way. Every hour the first day you take one little green capsule for just ten hours—then relief comes.

The second day, take one every two hours for 14 hours—Then take 4 little green capsules every day until every last little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone and your rheumatic troubles have ceased.

The little green capsule now so much in demand from coast to coast must have a name so it is known in every worthwhile drug store in America as Allenrhu Number 2.

As is usual with successful remedies, there will probably be imitations so for your own protection insist on Allenrhu Number 2.

And please remember this—the little green Capsule must give you prompt relief—must give you abundant satisfaction—must free you from rheumatic distress or the price you pay for the first full bottle will be promptly refunded by McKee's Kut Rate Store or any reputable druggist in America.

Give Her the World's Champion Car

JUST two bright keys in a dainty jewel case! But no Christmas package ever held a greater treasure of happiness—for out in the drive stands a smart, trim Studebaker Commander—and those keys make it her own.

What pleasure you'll take in giving her this world-champion motor car—the car that climaxed its championship career by traveling 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes! This dramatic run was made by strictly stock Studebaker Commanders under the supervision of the American Automobile Association. Nothing else on earth ever traveled so far so fast.

Neither she nor you may be interested in the high speed which The Commander is able to maintain for long distances. But you are interested in the sturdy design which made possible better than a mile a minute for a distance equivalent to a circuit of the world. Such stamina spells utmost reliability on your trips across town or across the continent. It means long life, low maintenance cost and superlative service.

There's justifiable pride that you and your wife will take in driving a car which has so conclusively demonstrated its ability as the "world's champion." You'll sense this pride when you step on the accelerator and flash ahead of the crowd; when you "zoom" up hills or "step-out" on the open highway.

And what joy to show The Commander to her friends, for its beauty of line and finish win instant admiration.

Drop in today and we'll give you the Keys. Her Commander will be at your door Christmas Eve or Christmas morning—whenever you say. Then no one's wife will have a happier Christmas than yours!

Sheriff Objects To Quarantining Woman In Co. Jail

Releases Laura Elder And Notifies City Authorities To Come After Her

Upon a commitment issued by W. L Steen, health officer, "Laura Elder" was placed in the county jail yesterday afternoon by Sanitary Officer L. S. Hoon. Examining the commitment Sheriff H. M. Reynolds found that the woman was charged with being a menace to public health being tubercular and afflicted with a communicable disease, also that "she neglects to protect others from infection and her character and occupation, habits of life and neglect of treatment and the methods designed to protect others."

As the woman had to be placed in a section of the jail with nine other women the sheriff concluded that if she was a menace to others she should not be quarantined in the county jail. Upon consultation and advice of his attorney, Edwin K. Logan the sheriff released the woman from jail and notified the city authorities to come and get her. Some other disposition will be made of the case.

Charge Efforts To Wreck Miner's Union

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—Miners sympathizers here were aroused today over the charges that "powerful Philadelphia interests are conspiring to wreck the miners' union" made by Thomas Kennedy, international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, in an address here to the Women's Trade Union league.

Kennedy pleaded for financial support to carry on the strike of 150,000 miners in western and central Pennsylvania, which as been in effect since last April.

The union, Kennedy said, is spending approximately $500,000 a month to provide for food and shelter for 600,000 men, women and children in the strike area and the barrack-building program for this winter, exclusive of food and clothing, will cost close to $700,000.

"I want to remind you," Kennedy went on, "that the vote was charged in every coal county in the state in the last general election This was on open declaration of the electors in the coal regions that no man can get public office unless he understands the miners' problem."

WARN CONGRESS ABOUT TAX CUT

Ways And Means Committee Warns Cut Must Not Exceed $232,735,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Congress was warned today by the house ways and means committee that the treasury will face the danger of a deficit if tax reduction goes beyond $232,735,000.

Reporting the bill to congress, the committee declared it had gone as far in tax reduction as it is justified in the face of future prospects.

Although the bill carries actually a $235,515,000 cut in taxes, some tax increases were voted which makes the next reduction $232,735,000. This revised figure brings the committee near the recommendation of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who placed reduction limit at $225,000,000.

Representative Green (R) of Iowa, chairman reported the bill for the entire committee, but Democratic members refuse to agree to many declarations made in it and are prepared to wage a fight for a greater tax cut on the floor.

"The estimated surplus for 1928 is $274,000,000," said the report. "It is apparent then. that the committee has gone fully as far in tax reduction as ordinary prudence will justify.

Stork Puts Stop To Court Trial

Government Witness Says Stork About To Visit Home, Case Postponed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—The stork today threw a figurative monkey wrench into the wheels of federal court justice when the trial of Daniel Shields, alleged Johnstown bootlegger, was postponed at the request of a government witness, who announced he expected the momentary arrival of the storm at his home.

Shields was to be given a new trial from his conviction and sentence of one year in jail for violation of the prohibition laws. The new trial was granted by the United States supreme court.

Chicago Driver Gets Sad News Of Death Of Wife

Stopped Enroute As He Is Passing Through New Castle; Wife Run Down By Auto

Butler barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police called the local police authorities this morning and asked them to get in touch with the driver of a Red Ball Transit Company truck, which had been seen passing through Butler this morning enroute to this city and tell him to call the Chicago telephone operator.

The local police were successful in meeting the driver as he drove into this city, his name being Albert W. Dietrich of 1049 North Drake avenue, Chicago.

He called the Chicago operator from the police station here and was informed that his wife had been killed by a street car in that city.

He arranged to have his helper take the truck on through to Chicago and took the 10:35 a. m. train on the Pennsylvania for Chicago.

Mars Hunting Club Has Good Season At Huntingdon Camp

Col. Hamill Of Enon Valley Brings Home Fine Specimen Of 10-Point Buck

Colonel T. Hamill of Enon Valley and C. E. Fullerton, 316 Winter avenue, this city, members of the Mars Hunting and Fishing Club, have just returned from the club's camp in Huntingdon county, Mr. Hamill bringing back a 10 point, 200-pound buck as the reward of his skill.

This specimen that Mr. Hamill brought down is said to be the most perfect head seen in this vicinity for a long time. Harry Herr of Mars secured a fine four-point buck. W. J. McCallister of Highland avenue, another New Castle member of the club, is still in camp.

The club, which is composed of 50 members, owns almost 500 acres of land in Huntingdon county and lease a tract of probably 750 acres adjoining, so that they have a hunting privilege without any necessity of trespassing on others' territory. On the property is a 12-room house, plenty of outbuildings and room to store 20 cars; a good orchard, mountain spring and a fine view of 40 miles of Stone Mountain.

The house is fully equipped with range, restaurant china, cooking utensils, cots, chairs, tables, victrola, radio, etc. In fact, all the comforts of home except necessary bed coverings, which must be taken along. Of the best equipment is that during the game season, one of the best chefs in the state in Harry Brent of Butler.

Probably only about one-half of the membership of the club is at camp during the hunting season. The others use it during the summer as a place to spend the week-ends and vacations.

Mr. Hamill says that through the courtesy of W. J. McCallister The News arrived regularly at camp and was enjoyed by all.

Nearly 14,000 Phone Directories Issued

Less than 24 hours after they arrived in the city, employes of the Bell Telephone company have succeeded in getting the winter issue of the telephone directory in the mail this morning, said T. J. Harper, manager of the New Castle district.

Mr. Harper declares that 11,300 books have been sent to subscribers on the New Castle exchange, and 2,300 more to those who are on the Ellwood City exchange, making the total for the county 13,600

Organize Posse To Search Woods For Missing Man

Hunter Missing From Cabin For Two Days Believed Victim Of Escaped Convict

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8.—State Game Warden Jesse Hassinger today issued a call to all hunters and campers in the Seven Mountains district to join the searching party which has spread throughout the hills in an effort to locate Clyde Hess, 45, of Parkesburg, Chester county, missing from his hunting lodge since Tuesday noon.

Hassinger plans to send his army of hunters through all accessable parts of the 100,000 acres of woodlands in and around Broad mountain.

Fear that Hess may have been attacked by a convict who escaped from Rockview penitentiary last Friday.

A farmer reported seeing a man in the region in which Hess disappeared, but the description did not fit him, leading to a theory that the convict may have attacked Hess and stolen his clothing. Hunters in Bear mountain reported hearing shouts of distress last night.

Icy Wind Sweeps Over Community

Accompanied by a heavy wind that swept over this city during the night, temperatures dropped from mild fall-like weather conditions last night, to real icy biting wintry weather this morning.

The wind that swept over the city this morning was the nearest to real old fashioned winter that has as yet been experienced this season.

Temperatures dropped far below freezing.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

There is one construction job in the city that seems to get little or no public attention. In fact, it is very doubtful if very many people know that it is going on at all. And that is the addition to the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company's building on Washington street. At the rear of the present structure the steel superstructure has been erected for a building which will be the size of the main seven-story building. Work seems to be getting along rather nicely.

And while we are on construction, it is well to note that the second floor of the new fire house on South Jefferson street is almost completed, there being many bricklayers employed in rushing the building along. That the old fire house on East street be used as a central clearing house for the charities of the city, together with the county poor director, has been advocated by several prominent men. What do you think about it?

On Long avenue there is a store which must sell almost everything. Above the front there is a sign which boldly proclaims that inside is a furniture exchange. On one window there is another sign that states choice groceries can be had on the inside for the asking. On the door yet another sign says that they also sell candy, soft drinks and tobacco. And, on the side of the structure, still another sign states that here is a fish market. We suppose that it is a case of "you pays your money and you takes your choice".

The first Christmas tree of the season was noticed yesterday on Croton—a mighty spruce about 30 feet tall. And there are yet 14 more shopping days.

Twice before this colyum has heralded the coming of winter with a light fanfare of trumpets, but now it is time to crawl on the band wagon with a bass drum, for it is here at last. And there is no fooling about the matter this time, as many motorists have cause to know.

One small flivver chugged gaily up Mill street this morning leaving behind a wake of gas and steam. We suppose that soon this will be a common sight.

And down on the South Side there is a clique, headed by Paul Cuba, who have banded themselves together under the mystic title of the Society for the Suppression of Thanksgiving, for Thanksgiving spells the end of the football season. Every afternoon, from 3:30 until it is too dark to see, in an alley back of Long avenue, one might see them, lustily kicking a football about and praying for next September.

DEEP COUGHS ARE DANGEROUS

A slight cough in your throat, loose enough to allow you to expel the mucous may perhaps be thrown off with an ordinary cough drop. But if it tightens, goes down and hangs on, don't rely on common remedies. You need Murrmann's Compound, a real healer—an approved and recognized medicine that will promptly allay inflammation, build up your resistance and kill the germs. Don't be misled. A cough doesn't put you to bed at first, but it may put you there for keeps if allowed to settle on your lungs. Murrmann's Compound contains no alcohol or narcotics of any kind. It is recognized as one of the most effective formulas for all diseases of the respiratory organs. At reliable druggists. If yours hasn't it he can quickly get it from the D. W. Price Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Daughters Of Union Veterans Elect Officers

Miss Anna Patterson was elected president of the Daughters of Union Veterans of this city at the annual election of officers in the U. V. L. hall.

Others officers named were: Senior vice president, Mrs. Maude Fisher; junior vice president, Mrs. Lucy Pettitt; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Kurtz; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Boak; patriotic instructor, Mildred Turner; council, Mrs. Minnie Kaufman, Mrs. Rose Tripp and Mrs. Rebecca Truxall.

The newly elected officers will be installed at the next meeting the second Tuesday in January.

Find Bessemer News In Forty Year Old Copy Of Daily News

BESSEMER, Dec. 8.—Forty years and more have passed since New Castle began to print Bessemer news in their daily paper. At that time Bessemer was only a very, very small town, really a country village. Now the visitor sees a prosperous borough bustling with its industries. Last week while a search was being made for some valuable papers a New Castle daily paper was brought to light which contained some early Bessemer news. The paper was dated August 29, 1888. The news that it contained may be of interest to some of the older residents of the borough.

The quarrys are running full time.

The new school house is rapidly nearing completion.

Winter Trigg and Supt. Shilling were at Oreville Saturday.

The Harrison and Morton club met Saturday night—70 members.

The Republicans will raise a pole dedicated to Protection on Saturday next.

The Democrats at Edenburg organized a club Saturday night—49 members.

It is reported that the Democrats will raise a Democratic standard on Saturday next. That's right boys, make things lively. IAGO.

The News at that time was called "The New Castle Daily News." It was only an eight page paper and one column of the first page was given over to ads.

Find Body Of Man Missing Two Months

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8—Funeral arangements were made here today for William Kelly, 45 of Lambert, whose body was found in a sewer 300 feet under an ash dump. A revolver and flashlight were found nearby. Kelly had left a note to his brother instructing him to take possession of his furniture when he disappeared October 11. A widespread search resulted in finding the body in the sewer.

Eighteen Persons Burned To Death

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Eighteen persons were burned to death when fire destroyed a large bamboo structure in the native quarter of Calcutta said a Central News dispatch from Calcutta this afternoon.

Fear that the flames would spread to nearby dwellings threw the native population into a panic.

Cites Causes Of Embezzlements

New York Banker Declares High Cost Of Fast Living Is Big Cause

ATLANTIC CITY, Dec. 8.—The upward climb on the social ladder from the alleys to the heavily carpeted homes of the rich of the once lowly dice is seen as one reason for the crime wave which has been sweeping this country for the past few years, said William L. Barnhart, resident vice president of the National Surety company of New York, who is at The Ambassador.

"Once known as 'African golf' and once the sport of newsboys, the vogue of the now dubbed 'galloping dominoes' has spread to society and sometimes society has not the money to pay its own high stakes," continued Mr. Barnhart. "Not long ago in New York, a suave and fashionable gambler won $75,000 on a single roll of 'fixe' dice. Among those who lost in the game was at least one who could not afford to for he paid his 'honest' debts by forging the name of a rich friend."

Mr. Barnhart pointed out that other causes of embezzlement are found to be the high cost of fast living, including the high cost of pleasing modern women gold diggers; liquor and drugs; the desire to keep up with the Joneses, and actual family needs brought about by misfortune.

"I hold that employers are equally responsible for dishonesty with their employes who steal," continued Mr. Barnhart. "Many employers neglect their businesses. Employes steal because they are able to find a way of doing so without fear of being detected. Every case of loss reveals that somewhere a proprietor, a treasurer or an auditor has fallen down in his duty of knowing what is going on."

Crime, he went on to say, is one of the leading industries in the United States, being greater than the entire foreign trade, more than the total value of all our agricultural products, more costly than the total yearly bill of the World war and greater than all our loans to the Allies.

Newspaper Man Dies In Johnstown

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8.—Death ended the long newspaer career of A. H. Walters, 65, publisher of the Johnstown Tribune, during the night. Besides owning the Tribune for 25 years Walters served four terms in congres and was prominently identified with several lodges. The widow survives.

Auto Accidents Reported Wednesday

Walter Shulansky, 1702 Huron avenue, reported Wednesday that he was driving his automobile east on East Washington street at Adams street when his machine ran into a ditch between the street car tracks on which there was no light. His machine was damaged.

H. Fisher of 372 East Washington street reported Wednesday that he was driving west on Lutton street and was making a turn into Williams street, when a truck of the New Castle Feed and Coal Company ran into the rear of his machine, doing some damage.

C. L. Fombell reported that his truck, loaded with coal, was stopped in the center of the street preparatory to making a right-hand turn into 1410 East Washington street, when the car of J. P. Cooper ran into his machine. The damage done was not great.

Barbers Get Together In Annual Attack On Chicken Banquet

Members of local 278, International Union Barbers, held their annual banquet last night at the Elks Club, at which shop proprietors were guests and in which chicken was the victim.

About 50 members of the local attended the fete, during which the verbal thrusts of James McCallion, toastmaster, wandered thither and yon. Fred Lewellyn is president of the local union.

When the chicken was served last night only one attempted to master it with fingers, and for fear of getting into complications with the better half of his family, his name is deleted.

Nick Faella, a well-known connoisseur in things a la chicken, mastered his with ease, due to practice. Sam Lewis, however, had trouble, and having received a wing, it promptly flew off his plate.

Herb Samuels, who once wore a thatch of black hair as thick as the sole on a coal miner's shoe, turned out to the banquet with a few hairs darting toward his eyebrows, proving he once had hair.

James McCallion, who believes in helping "Count" Hemphill make shieks of their patrons, came into the banquet hall dolled up with a moustache over his lip that would have made Charlie Chaplin envy.

Andy Hoke, one of the deans of the profession, refused to talk, and after showing the boys how to conquer a neck, he departed, 10 p. m. to him being a late hour for boys.

Jack White, who once upon a time might have been called the beau brummel of the barbers, was in the audience. He wears spectacles at dinner.

To state that one-half of the union barbers are bald-pated would be slapping truth in the face, and it was discovered that baldheadedness among the barbers is prevalent only among a few.

As Sol Davis explained, this is due to the fact that the barbers practice what they preach and during idle moments have each other give the hair tonic bottle busy moments.

There is a tendency on the part of the barbers, it was discovered, however, to wear patches of hair above the upper lip and to comb their hair straight back, which has a tendency to hide gray age.

Despite the conversion of the barber shop to the "bobber shop", the scissor man's jokes have not decreased. Instead, they have increased and he has become more expert in extracting information.

He will regret the day, as one put it last night, when bobbed hair goes out of style, as he now caters to the entire family, where once upon a time only the head (?) of the household visited a barber shop.

The barbers also displayed a keen knowledge of what to do with knives, forks and spoons. Hithertofore they have been accused of being somewhat deficient, excepting with razor and scissors.

Gussie, the man whom we blame for rubbing the hair off our head, appeared in a toupe. Gussie explained this by declaring he has so many customers he hasn't had time to try his own hair tonic.

Jess Miller, who was lost for a week once upon a time, appeared in disguise. He wore heavy horn spectacles, but his identity was discovered when he attacked the meal. No one handles a chicken like Jess.

Slim, who answers to the name of Gwin, and who can stand on his toes and pick Mars out of the sky, told his brother barbers he never is affected by cramps when he bends low to shave a customer's face.

Sol Davis, who once escaped from boxes, has not escaped from the barbering profession, but showed a keen aptitude for tickling the ivories, much to the pleasure of his craftsmen.

Just to show that he isn't afraid to face the men to whom he has sold supplies, Joe Schriber, Rochester, N. Y., attended the banquet and ethically refrained from offering to sell anything to the barbers.

Schriber has been coming to New Castle for 35 years and is well known among the barbers. It was pleasing to them to learn that Schriber journeyed from Rochester to be with them.

Lee Lutz acted as outer guard during the last portion of the banquet, while Mr. Covert, formerly of this city, now of Youngstown, entertained with sallies of wit.

Charlie Santillo, who might be called the shiek of the P. & L. E. crossing, had the Copple trio on the job and their music was well received, likewise the dancing of Miss Ethel Farrar.

President Fred Llewellyn explained in a speech to the barbers that the banquet had been arranged for the promotion of fellowship and said local 278 is in a flourishing condition.

He described the sanitary measures the barbers favor and told how the international order had aided in bringing about legislation protective to patron and craftsmen.

The menu: grape juice cocktail, mixed with Lucky Tiger; chicken, covered with massage cream; mashed potatoes with Wild Root as dressing; corn a la Pinol; coffee with lather, cake and ice cream, smothered with hair.

"No More Rheumatic Pains For Me"

Grandpa Kruschen says:

Coke Production Shows Increase

First Increase Since October Shown In Weekly Coke Production Report

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 8.—Coke production in the Connellsville region during the past week showed the first increase since October, according to a survey today by International News Service. Total for the week was 41,810, a gain of 930 over the previous week's loss of 2,470.

With but four weeks intervening before the end of the year, there is every indication that 1927 will be recorded as one of the lean years since the early days of the coke region in 1921 production was 3,572,417 tons, which was the lowest in 35 years. If the present rate of production is continued, the aggregate will be approximately 4,711,000 tons, or somewhat more than in 1921.

By interests, the week's tonnage was: furnace, 7,200 tons, a gain of 500 tons; merchant, 34,810 tons, a gain of 430 tons.

The only change in the oven list was the restoration of 55 at Shamrock, which had been out for several weeks.

Prices quoted were $2.75 for spot furnace and $4 to $4.75 for foundry.

She's probably too young to be called miss if she doesn't mind sleeping with cracker crumbs in the bed.

One way to have harmony in the home is to quit trying a duet and be content with a soprano solo.

Davey Elected As President Of Six Merged Companies

W. H. Davey Is Made President Of Consolidated Steel Rolling Mills

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 8.—W. H. Davey, president of the Mansfield Sheet & Tin Plate company, has been elected president of the consolidation of six northern Ohio steel rolling mill companies, itw as learned here today. Names of other officers have not as yet been announced.

The merged company will have 61 rolling mills with a capacity of 400,000 tons yearly, including the Falcon Steel, Thomas Steel and Waddell Steel of Niles, Mansfield Sheet & Steel, Empire Rolling mill, Cleveland & Ashtabula Steel of Ashtabula.

Stockholders today were being advised of the decision of directors and asked for approval. More than 5,000 workers are employed in the six plants. Four 100-ton open hearths at Mansfield are the only steel producers in the merger, it was said.

Eighty Deer Are Killed In Venago

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 8.—At least 80 deer have been killed in the Venango county hills during the first seven days of the present hunting season, state game protectors announced today.

League Moves To Prevent Clash

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Dec. 8.—Formal intervention by the League of Nations in the Polish-Lithuanian territorial dispute to prevent the present diplomatic breach from growing into an actual clash was indicated by developments today.

Following rival pleas to the League Council delivered by Premier Augustine Valdemars, of Lithuania, and Foreign Minister Zaleski, of Poland, and the appointment of Beelaerts Van Blockland, of Holland, as special commissioner, the council continued its study of the dispute today.

It is expected that there will be no decision until after the arrival of President Pilsudski, of Poland, who is expected here tomorrow.

The height of absurdity, if you mean a skirt, depends on what nature did for or to the wearer.

RELIEF FROM ITCHING PILES is so quick when PAZO OINTMENT is applied, it will surprise you. Druggists are keenly interested in the remedy and are recommending it to their customers. Ask your Druggist about PAZO OINTMENT. In tubes with pile pipe, 75c; or in tin box, 60c.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

HOPE.

It is a poor heart says the proverb in which hope can not find something to feed upon. When a man or woman tells you that hope is dead you can be pretty sure it is just a pose and a pretense. Hope almost never dies entirely. If hope dies in the heart you have reached the end of the rope. For the death of hope is the death of everything.

NOT SO DUMB.

Nearly 2,000 men and women voted some time ago in a poll to determine the ten most popular books. The result of this poll is a great credit to the "rank and file," if the folks are telling the truh. It shows there is some taste for education in this country. Perhaps the report of dumbness has been exaggerated. Following are the ten books that received the highest vote: "The Outline of History," "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "If Winter Comes," 'The Americanization of Edward Bok," "The Life of Christ," "The Crisis," "Short Stories" by O. Henry, 'The Virginian," "The Life and Letters of Walter H. Page," "The Mind in the Making."

NEED INFORMATION.

It was Glenn Frank president of the University of Wisconsin who asid that the average newspaper editor underestimated his readers intelligence but overestimated their information. The lack of information on the part of people who are really intelligent is a startling disclosure to anyone who will take the trouble to investigate.

RESOURCES.

The accumulation of resources in the mind and spirit is the most important of all investments. There must come a time when material pleasure no longer satisfy. Old age is likely to be lonely. A bank account helps and shouldn't be neglected. But the deposits in the mind must not be neglected either. What are you reading? What tastes in your younger years are you acquiring? Are you getting together some resources of the spirit to live on in old age?

FRANKNESS.

In a letter that Gen. Robert E. Lee wrote to his son we find these words: "Study to be frank with the world, frankness is the child of honesty and courage."

Perhaps the modern world suffers from too much diplomacy. A frank way of approaching problems does a great deal toward settling them. Calling things by their right names does take courage. But it's the practice that gets the quickest results.

McClure Will Be Westminster Man At Y Conference

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Donald McClure of Blairsville will represent Westminster college in the northwestern district Y. M. C. A. conference which is to be held at Grove City on next Saturday and Sunday December 10 and 11.

McClure who is the president of the Westminster organization, will speak on the subject "The Place of the Y. M. C. A. on the College Campus." McClure is a member of the Phi Pi Phi fraternity and a senior in the college.

Farm Movement Will Be Furthered

(International News Service)

KENT, O., Dec. 8.—Organization of a national federation of clubs to further a general farm movement was announced here today by C. E. Wharton, presient of the Federated Clubs of Ohio. The organization, Wharton said, was affected at Des Moines four weeks ago at a meeting of the National Farmers' union, the Corn Belt Farmers' association, the National Monetary Confederation and the Farmers' National Educational union. News of the organization was withheld, Wharton said, until minor differences had been dispelled.

Few people recognize System-Poisoning — doctors call it "TOXEMIA." If you lack ambition, energy, vim, feel nervous, and bowels don't act regularly, look out for this insidious disorder. TOXEMIA steals your vitality and health in a mysterious way.

Guard against it by taking the pleasant laxative and internal antiseptic, PARTOLA. This cleans out wastes that poison your system. Get a box now. Eat one or two at night. Feel the difference in health and pep next day—with that constipated feeling GONE! All good druggists sell regular box 30¢, double size 50¢

Court Secrecy Booms Divorce For England

New Regulations Allow Breaking Marital Ties Without Publicity

More Than 500 Petitions On London Dockets With Increase In Sight

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The secrecy with which divorce may now be conducted in England is urging more and more people to the divorce courts as a means of breaking unhappy marital ties. According to prominent divorce lawyers, the recent English law prohibiting newspapers from publishing anything beyond the bare skeleton of divorce hearings has resulted in an almost hundred per cent increase in divorces in the few months that the law has been in operation.

Over 500 Petitions.

More than 500 divorce petitions will be heard during the coming divorce court term, and when the 1927 legal year closes more than 2,400 divorce suits will have been decided in London alone. With provincial courts the total is brought up to 3,500. This means that, including co-respondents, 10,000 persons will have been concerned.

The remarkable increase of divorce is shown by the following yearly average over five-year periods since the beginning of the present century.

1901-1905	563
1906-1910	624
1911-1915	656
1916-1920	1,510
1921-1925	2,734

Many Are Childless.

Until women and men were recently placed on the same basis as regards grounds for divorce, the number of men and women in England against divorce decrees were issued was about equal, but now the petitions by women predominate. In 40 per cent of the cases the parties are childless while in a further 32 per cent there is one child only.

Numbers of women are believed to be taking advantage of the allegation of adultery, which previously was not a sufficient in respect of men.

Cowboys Buying "Tall Ones" Now

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Because they were afraid they would use up all the red ink in the world, two cowboys deserted a money-losing ranch three years ago, came to Chicago and began collecting skyscrapers.

The pair, Adolph Stamer and Ernest A. Jackson, still with the ruddiness of the open on their cheeks, the horny palm of range work in their hands, have corralled four downtown buildings, the smallest 16 stories and the tallest, 42.

The $1,000,000 in the red of three years ago is several times that on the indigo side of the ledger now.

White Christmas In State Predicted

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 8.—Pennsylvania will have a white Christmas this year, if the predictions of Gus Duckenbill, Schuylkil county's long distance weather prophet are to be taken as a fact.

Many of the people of this community do accept Duckenbill's prophecies for fact, too, it is said.

Although he is not quite ready to announce the exact dates on which the snow will fall Duckenbill says there also will be several secere blizzards during the winter.

Extremes of temperature will be noted all during the winter, the prophet says.

Tells Of Riding Upon Deer's Back

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Dec. 8.—A thrilling ride on the back of a wounded deer was related by Kenneth L. Smith, 18, of Albion, on his return today from a hunting trip in the Clearfield mountain.

The youth's gun jammed after he shot a 11-point buck in the leg. As he approached the deer ran. Smith giving chase, grabbed the buck by the antlers and swung up on its back. The animal collapsed after a few hundred yards and Smith completed his kill with the gun of a companion.

Since there are so many mistakes to make what's the use of making the same one twice.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES D. STEWART

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Why a senator should rank as about twice as big a frog as a representative in the national capital puddle isn't very readily apparent.

He's no higher salaried a frog—$10,000 a year, same as a representative.

Yet, for some reason, as a tree toad is to a bullfrog, so also is a member of the lower house of Congress, compared with a member of the upper one, here in Washington.

True, a representative's pretty important in his home burg, but let a senator show up even there, and the former croaks soft and low, so long as the visitor stays, while the latter honks his head off, till you can hear him all over the state, and sometimes farther.

Once on a time, when a senator was elected by his own private legislature, whereas a representative had to scrabble for common folks' votes, just like a candidate for town marshal, there was an obvious difference.

Now, though, a senator has to scrabble as hard as a representative.

To be sure, a representative has to do it every two years, and a senator only once in every six.

However, when a senator does have to do it, he has an awful job on his hands. A representative's campaign in a tight little district, maybe only a few blocks square, like some of those in our bigger cities, isn't a circumstance to the statewide fight a senator has to put up.

Senators may have something on representatives in that there aren't so many of them—only 96, as against 435 representatives.

But that rule doesn't apply in all cases.

In the 69th Congress, we had with us Carl Hayden, Arizona's sole representative—the only one of his species—Arizona has only one.

In this, the 70th congress, the best Carl can claim as a senator is a 50-50 split of the honors with Senator Henry F. Ashurst. He isn't as rare an avis as he used to be.

Nevertheless, they speak of Carl's "promotion".

Note the strange case of William S. Vare.

Vare'd been a representative for 15 years and had it cinched for 100, if he lived that long.

What advantage could he see in a Senate seat?

He had his own representative's vote and could dictate a senator's—or kick him out of office—maybe two senators. The presidency itself could not have made him any more absolute boss of eastern Pennsylvania.

And yet he didn't balk at a $600,000 expenditure and all the scandal he's stirred up to run for the Senate.

What was his idea?

"Social prestige" is the only interpretation I'm able to get.

Well, what is there so much more exalted, socially, about a senator than there is about a representative? Even granting that the former's somewhat more consequential than the latter, is there such an awful lot of difference?

Yes, I'm told—because, when the President makes an appointment, the representatives have nothing to say, but the senators must approve it to make it stick.

Some of these appointments are to posts of the very first importance—cabinet positions, seats on the supreme bench, big embassies.

Who gets one of them may depend, any time, on the vote of a single senator. It shouldn't be assumed that he's offered an invitation to dine with royalty in return for it, but it's a fact that there would not be any point in making such an offer, in a situation of the kind, to a mere representative.

Warren Arranges For County Fair

WARREN, Pa., Dec. 8.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Warren County Agricultural Association encouraging reports were made on the 1927 fair, and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that plans be started at once for the exposition that will be held in September, 1928. Three new members were elected to the board of directors, R. E. Wald, Donald Folkman and William Snyder.

Nowadays an actress has to be slim to get a fat part.

Chooses Blindness To Having Husband In Pauper's Grave

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Abandoning plans for an operation which might save her rapidly failing sight, Mrs. Mary C. Waite, of this city, announced that she would devote money saved up for the operation to the burial of her husband, Michael M. Waite, who was found fatally wounded near Meadville, Pa., last week.

"I don't love him," she declared. "I won't go to his funeral, but I will spend my last nickel to give him a decent burial."

Waite, at first believed to have fallen victim to holdup men, is believed to have committed suicide. He was formerly proprietor of a saloon here.

When she first learned of Waite's fate, his wife decided to disregard him in death as she had done for the past six years in life. Over that period she had saved up a small sum of money with which to have the operation performed, for doctors told her it was the only hope of saving her eyesight. Today she relented and announced that she had wired the authorities at Meadville to ship the body here instead of burying it in a pauper's grave.

So you are honest, eh? Well, have you never pretended to be asleep and thus forced Friend Wife to get the kid a drink at 3 a. m.?

Some men brood over their domestic troubles, and others are honest enough to do their drinking without thinking up an alibi.

Discuss Plans For New High School In Slippery Rock

Architects Discuss Project With Members Of Board Wednesday Night

Several architects met with the Slippery Rock township school board last night to discuss plans for the proposed new high school building.

There was considerable discussion, but definite action was postponed until a later date. Slippery Rock voted a bond issue of $30.000 for the erection of a new high school building at the November election. It is the intention to have the plans drawn and approved so that actual work on the new structure can be started early in the spring, in order that it may be ready for the fall opening of school.

Coast Fliers Seek Endurance Record In Flight Today

Hope To Break Record Held By German Fliers For Sustained Flight

(International News Service)

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, San Francisco, Dec. 8.—Flying a tri-motored Fokker plane, Lieut. George R. Pond, U. S. N., and Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian aviators, took the air at 8:55 a. m. in an attempt to break the world's record for sustained flight.

The plane carried 1,418 gallons of gasoline and 45 gallons of oil, sufficient fuel, according to the airmen, to keep them long enough to shatter the record.

The endurance record of 52 hours, 22 minutes and 21 seconds is held by German flyers.

Investigate Blast At Open Shop Mine Near Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—A heavy charge of nitro-glycerine was exploded in the fanhouse of the Wilson mine at Cokeburg Junction early today, wrecking the ventilating system and endangering the lives of 200 miners who were at work.

None of the miners were injured however. All walked orderly to safety. About 300 miners usually are employed there. The mine has operated on the open shop plan since last April.

The explosion is being investigated by County Detective W. B. Dinsmore and local officers.

Kuhn Brothers of Pittsburgh, own the mine.

Seventeen Contagious Cases During Month

Seventeen contagious cases were reported to City Health Officer Dr. W. L. Steen during November month, according to a report to be made Friday to city council. Ten tubercular patients were found. Two of the remainder had pneumonia, while the balance consisted of whooping cough, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, mumps and diphtheria. The patieint which had typhoid contracted the illness in Michigan, according to Dr. Steen.

Corn Borer Clean Up Not Required Here This Year

Only Erie, Crawford And Warren Counties Required To Make Clean-Up

Quarantine Area And Regulations Nearly Same As Last Year

According to the revised regulations of the fight against the European Corn Borer as adopted by the State Agriculture Department the spring clean up of corn stubble that was required last year will not be necessary this coming spring in Lawrence and neighboring counties.

A thorough clean-up of all corn crop remnants before May 1, will be required this year in only three counties—Erie, Crawford and Warren. Last spring the clean-up was made in eight counties—Erie, Crawford, Warren, Mercer, Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Venango.

The quarantine area however is about the same as last year including all or part of 42 counties among which are Lawrence county and all neighboring counties.

The products subject to quarantine during the coming year are corn and broom corn, including all parts of the plant, all sorghums and sudan grass. These may not be moved from points inside the quarantine area to points outside the area. Cleaned shelled corn and clean seed of broom corn, however, may be certified for shipment.

No restrictions are placed on products such as dried sweet corn which have been manufactured or processed in a way to eliminate all danger of spreading the corn borer.

In the clean-up regulations an exemption is made to "fast corn stubble, in clean corn fields or fields seeded to small grain, which are not more than two inches in height above the normal ground surface."

The requirements for the clean-up before December 1, of land subject to overflow, have been modified to include only such parts of the quarantined area as the Secretary of Agriculture or his inspector may designate.

Another regulation makes it a violation to dump corn crop refuse or weeds growing in the cornfields, into any stream or body of water at any time throughout the year.

Radium Recovered In Washed Linen

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—Five tiny tubes of radium, each smaller than a match and totaling $10,000 in value, have been recovered at Mount Carmel Hospital here after frantic searchers had gone over the building from basement to attic and sifted four truck loads of ashes and cinders in the hunt.

They were found by a radium expert from Pittsburgh, who used a small instrument sensitive to the presence of radium.

The tubes had been placed on a patient's eye following an operation and were mislaid when they were removed. The tubes became enfolded in some of the linens in the operation and were not found until after the linens were washed. They were undamaged.

The tubes belong to Dr. Benjamin R. Kirkendall of Columbus.

Veteran Teacher Dies At Age 68

HINTON, W. Va., Dec. 8.—George W. Lilly, 68, oldest school teacher in point of service in Summers county, died at his home near here yesterday of paralysis.

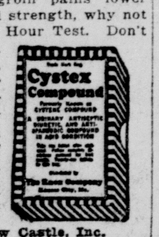

Mr. Lilly, who began his teaching experience 53 years ago and who had twice been county superintendent of schools, was retired on a pension after teaching two months of the present school term in a rural school in Jumping Branch district. Mr. Lilly was interested in the water power question and at the last convention of the State Education Association was instrumental in having that body adopt a resolution calling for water power legislation.

Shopping Night "For Men Only"

WARREN, Pa., Dec. 8.—Something new in Christmas shopping has been arranged by a committee from the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, in a "men only" shopping night. Thursday night has been set aside by merchants of the borough as a time when special attention will be given to the men. "No women customers are solicited on this occasion" seems to be the slogan. Stores are to be open from seven until nine o'clock in the evening, for male shoppers only.

To Replace Mercer County Flood Destroyed Bridges

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Dec. 8.—Not all the flood sufferers live south of the Mason and Dixon line, is testified to by the board of Mercer county commissioners who are now planning the building of two 50-foot bridges that span the Little Shenango, washed out in the freshet of that stream last week.

The two new bridges will cost an estimated sum of $20,000, it is reported. The commissioners have just completed the erection of two bridges costing over $5,000 on North Pitt street here and at Kennard that were washed out in the spring floods.

The first two named bridges are located near Sheakleyville. They are the Sheakley bridge on the Perry highway and the Ball Mill bridge. County Engineer F. P. Graham of Grove City is now having plans on the bridges drawn. They will have to be approved by the state highway and waterways commissions before being built.

Nothing can be done before spring in construction work and the incoming board of commissioners will have the contracts to handle, it was said at the office of the commissioners today, in view of the fact that the bridges cannot be constructed during the term of the present board.

EXAMINES STUDENTS

Dr. S. J. Dickey has completed his examination of the 600 students of the Mercer public schools, he announced today.

He states that he finds a marked improvement in the health of the student body over his 1926 examination. Where suggestions were made that would improve the health of the child he finds that the parents have cooperated in having it done.

The prevalency of goitre among the high school students found in 1926 shows a percentage of decrease this year, says the doctor.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

FILL JURY WHEEL

Preparation of the 800 names that will go into the jury wheel here for the 1928 court sessions is now taking place on the part of Jury Commissioners James Stillings of Sharon and Jerry Welk of Greenville.

The names must all be checked and in the wheel by the date of December 14, it is said, so that a grand jury and petit jury for the January term of criminal court may be drawn on December 15.

Each commissioner furnished one-third of the names, Judge J. A. McLaughry the remainder.

The work it about completed, it is said.

ASK FOR VIEWERS

A petition asking that viewers be appointed to assess the value of 157 feet of land 47 feet in width to be used for an extension of Ellsworth street from Fleming way westward to Summit avenue, was filed here yesterday by F. A. Fruit of Sharon, who is solicitor for that city.

Judge J. A. McLaughry made appointment of C. P. Clarke of Greenville, D. A. Lutton of Millcreek township and T. A. Sampson of Mercer as a trio to make a view of this land and fix the price of the land taken.

It is set forth that the land owners and city cannot come to any agreement on the price. It is purposed to widen the street from five to 52 feet for this distance.

There are two sides to every question—the woman's and the wrong one.

DR. W. P. WALKER TO MAKE DENTAL ADDRESS IN CITY

Dr. W. P. Walker, of Pittsburgh, a member of the faculty of the Dental School of the University of Pittsburgh, will be in New Castle on Monday evening, December 12, to speak to the New Castle Dental Club.

The meeting will be in the Elks Home on North Mill street opening at 6:30 o'clock. The subject upon which Dr. Walker will speak will be "Post Operative Pain and Its Treatment."

The man who sings his own praises doesn't get an encore.

State Election Law Commission Meets Next Week

Laws To Be Studied By Members Of Commission At Harrisburg Sessions

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8. — Pennsylvania's election laws will be subjected to the careful scrutiny of the State Election Law commission, which meets here Wednesday, Dec. 14, to formally organize.

The commission, created by the 1927 Legislature, will hold its initial meeting with Governor John S. Fisher, at which time it is anticipated that a chairman and secretary will be named. The secretary will be the only paid member of the commission, the others receiving only their expenses.

The commission was given an appropriation of $20,000 with which to study conditions and prepare a report for the 1929 Legislature. It is expected that the commission will also set dates for a number of hearings at its initial meeting.

Members of the commission are Judge Samuel E. Shull, Stroudsburg; Edwin W. Smith, Pittsburgh, law partner of Senator David A. Reed; Mrs. Mabel W. Mack, vice chairman of the Republican committee of Indiana county; Guy W. Moore, Wilkes-Barre, publisher and former member of Governor Pinchot's Commission of Seventy-Six on Election Reform; and former Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown, of Philadelphia, all of whom were appointed by Governor Fisher.

Members of the commission by virtue of their offices are Sen. Horace W. Schantz, Allentown, president pro tem of the Senate; Sen. Albert Davis, Scranton, chairman Senate elections committee; Rep. James H. McClure, Allegheny, chairman judiciary general committee, and Rep. Joseph C. Marcus, Pittsburgh, chairman house elections committee.

'Buck' Fever Hits Veteran Hunter

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 8.—What would you do, if after twenty-three years of deer hunting with never a kill to your credit, you suddenly saw two handsome bucks grazing a short distance away?

William Hartman, of Arendtsville, raised his rifle to his shoulder, aimed at the nearest buck, and blazed away. There was a sharp click, but no report. The buck bounded away.

Hartman, anticipating his first deer kill in twenty-three years of fruitless hunting, aimed again. Again there came a faint click, but no report, and the second deer fled.

Hartman returned to camp, packed his kit and gun, and went home.

By far the largest railroad station in the world is the Grand Central, New York which covers 80 acres and deals with a daily traffic of 600 trains.

Will your skin bear close scrutiny?

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. Had a skin eruption. Was nervous and had lost weight. After taking a course of S.S.S., I gained in weight; got rid of my nervousness; and my skin cleared up. I think S.S.S. is a most wonderful blood medicine. Several of my friends are taking it for the same reason I did." Miss Margaret Frye, Lapel, Ind.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

BORROWING TROUBLE

"By and by there were snakes to the right of me, and snakes to the left of me, and snakes behind me, all of them squirming and writhing and twisting and trying their best to get at me, just as I had done, but it didn't seem to be a bit of use."

Rattler stopped hissing and gazed off into the distance. Peter grew impatient. He didn't intend to let the serpent stop short in the middle of a tale so interesting. So, overcoming his dislike for the slippery, slimy suit of his companion, he leaned over and poked the fellow in the side.

"You have just reached the exciting part. Go on and tell me what happened next," pleaded he. "Say, what are you thinking about now?" For Rattler had turned and was staring at Peter with his glittering eye, and acting as though he had scarcely heard what the boy had said.

"I was thinking that before many moons it would grow cold again," replied the Serpent, and shivered at the thought. "The sun's visits will become shorter and shorter; the winds from the frozen north will drive back the balmy breezes to their southern home; the earth—the comfortable, warm, brown earth—will suddenly turn unfriendly and harden and grow cold even to those of us who love her best; the trees will lose their leaves; the grass will wither and fall to the ground and in all the meadows and forests there will be no green shelter, no tall, waving stalks among which I may lie at my ease without being seen, no soft soil on which I may coil and bask in the sun!"

"Don't borrow trouble, Rattler," cried Peter. "It is hot today. Lots may happen before cold weather sets in." Peter bit his tongue; he hadn't intended to say that at all. Luckily Rattler hadn't noticed his remark. So Peter continued: "What was there in that tale you were telling me to make you think of such sorrowful things?"

"Because all this that I have just told you was exactly what we Serpents were worrying about that morning so long ago. Some of us had been through the same thing before, many of us would go through the same thing again, but that didn't make life more pleasant then. Yes, sir; we Serpents were a very miserable lot!"

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

EXclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—They tell this funny one on the grandeurs of the mammoth Pennsylvania hotel. The manager one day observed a large weary looking family of six file into the gargantuan lobby, all in hiking clothes. The father disposed the cooking utensils to good effect, took a hitch in his trousers, and sat down. The other members of the family, all in disheveled hiking kit, did likewise. At this point, the startled official thought it time to investigate. He approached the group and inquired: "Are you waiting for someone?" Pa Hiker said no, just waiting for the train for Grand Rapids. And it was a rather relieved hotel man who hustled them on their way thru the underground passage to the Pennsylvania station across the street. They might still be parked on the hotel carpet if he hadn't asked that question.

The audiences at Max Reinhardt's presentation of "Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Century are large and varied. The German element is present, the butcher-baker-delicatessen-dealer, and their pleased fraus. And their seat mates are, like as not, the elect of the city, high-hatted and opera-cloaked, a trifle bored at the intricacies of the Reinhardt extravaganza, but determined not to miss anything bizarre or worth while. The Century theatre, by the way, is a place not to be visited without recalling the epithet hurled gently at it by James Whitaker, former New York dramatic critic. Whitaker called the Century "a mausoleum", and the Shuberts thereafter barred him from all their theatres, so affronted were they at the writer's raillery, innocently aimed.

The Waldorf hotel is putting a quick lunch service in its Palm room . . . You can get packages of patchwork pieces, all reay cut, at the five a dime . . . Most of the girls on Fifth avenue, wearing leopard coats look dangerously feline . . . The cop at Thirty-ninth street and Fifth avenue is invariably in a pet . . . The Union League club at Fifty-first street, across from St. Patrick's cathedral, has to sell its building and move again, impelled by the march of trade. The old boys are much upset about it. Time was when Fifty-first street was way up town.

Some good women have got together and decided that the poor working girl can manage to dress well and even "look chic" on a yearly allowance of $250. The stocking budget includes only six pairs, a number at which my wife frankly sniffs. She does not believe, nor do I, that the girl who works can slide by and still have self respecting heels to show to the world, on such a sock allowance There is no warm cloth dress mentioned in the budget, and since the girl has just an ordinary, in fact a rather cheap winter coat, she must have such a frock in her wardrobe. Or freeze to death. I suppose that many of the brave, smart little creatures dashing up and down the cross streets early in the morning do manage to keep heels and soles together on such a skimpy allowance, but I wonder how they do it. The lady who compiled the figures also discovered that "less than half of these girls wear either cotton or wool stockings." And that one out of five had a fur coat, either a gift or purchased on part-time payments." The long faced moralist might make something out of that "gift" explanation, but I am glad the poor little cuties get their fur coats, no matter how.

Modern women's garb has more latitude than longitude.

Shoots Deer With Only Three Legs

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8. — The deer season brought with it many stories of queer kills and unusual hunters.

Lynn Geedy, of Mifflin, reported bringing down a six point buck, which upon investigation proved to have only three legs. The animal had been a frequent visitor at Denholm, a coaling station on the Pennsylvania railroad, and had grown quite tame. It was thought the animal lost a leg when a hunter aimed low at it.

A. A. Doyle, of Lewistown reported one of the largest kills of the season, bagging a ten point buck which weighed 200 pounds. Doyle is not handicapped by the fact that he has only one arm, being considered one of the best shots in the region.

One of Lycoming county's most enthusiastic hunters is W. J. Gass, of Irish Valley, whose eighty-two years fail to deter him in the hunt. Gass bagged an eight point buck recently.

Spending money won't make you resemble those you envy. They are unlike you, but it is sense that makes them different—not money.

Radio Facts Essential to Every Prospective Purchaser

1—The set should be entirely shielded in order to get marked selectivity and eliminate fields of static.

2—Single control without the use of gears is essential otherwise sensitive tuning is impossible after the set has been in use a short period of time.

3—A dial showing the wave length kilocycles is practical since it eliminates the tedious task of logging stations.

4—At least three stages of tuned radio frequency is necessary to insure clear reception by the use of single control.

5—Condensor plates should be milled out of solid brass or aluminum and not spot welded. This makes warping of the plates impossible.

6—Radio sets should be backed by a manufacturers written guarantee to insure the purchaser of service regardless of the change of Agency.

7—Manufacturers should be licensed under R. C. A. in order to protect the purchaser.

There are few radio sets made except the Zenith that could cover these essential points, yet they mean a great deal to the prospective purchaser of a radio. Why not get the BEST first and save yourself trouble. Try a Zenith and be convinced of its superiority. Prices range from $100.00 up. Convenient terms easily arranged.

Wyoming And Idaho Territories

LIKE MOST OF THE STATES OF THE FAR WEST, WYOMING AND IDAHO WERE SETTLED BY PROSPECTORS FOR GOLD, AND EMIGRANTS WHO HAD SET OUT FOR THE PACIFIC COAST, BUT, WEARIED BY THE LONG OVERLAND JOURNEY, DECIDED TO SETTLE IN FERTILE PLACES THEY FOUND ON THE WAY.

NOT ALL THE MINERS FOUND GOLD. MANY WHO FAILED TO FIND THE PRECIOUS METAL TURNED TO OTHER OCCUPATIONS, SUCH AS FARMING AND CATTLE RAISING, THAT WERE NEEDED TO SUSTAIN THE MORE SUCCESSFUL FORTUNE HUNTERS.

THE MINING TOWNS, HAVING NO AGRICULTURE OF THEIR OWN, WERE RICH MARKETS FOR THE FOOD AND CATTLE OF THE FARMER AND RANCHER. AS THE SETTLEMENTS INCREASED IN SIZE AND NUMBER, THE AGRICULTURAL COMMUNITIES GREW AND PROSPERED.

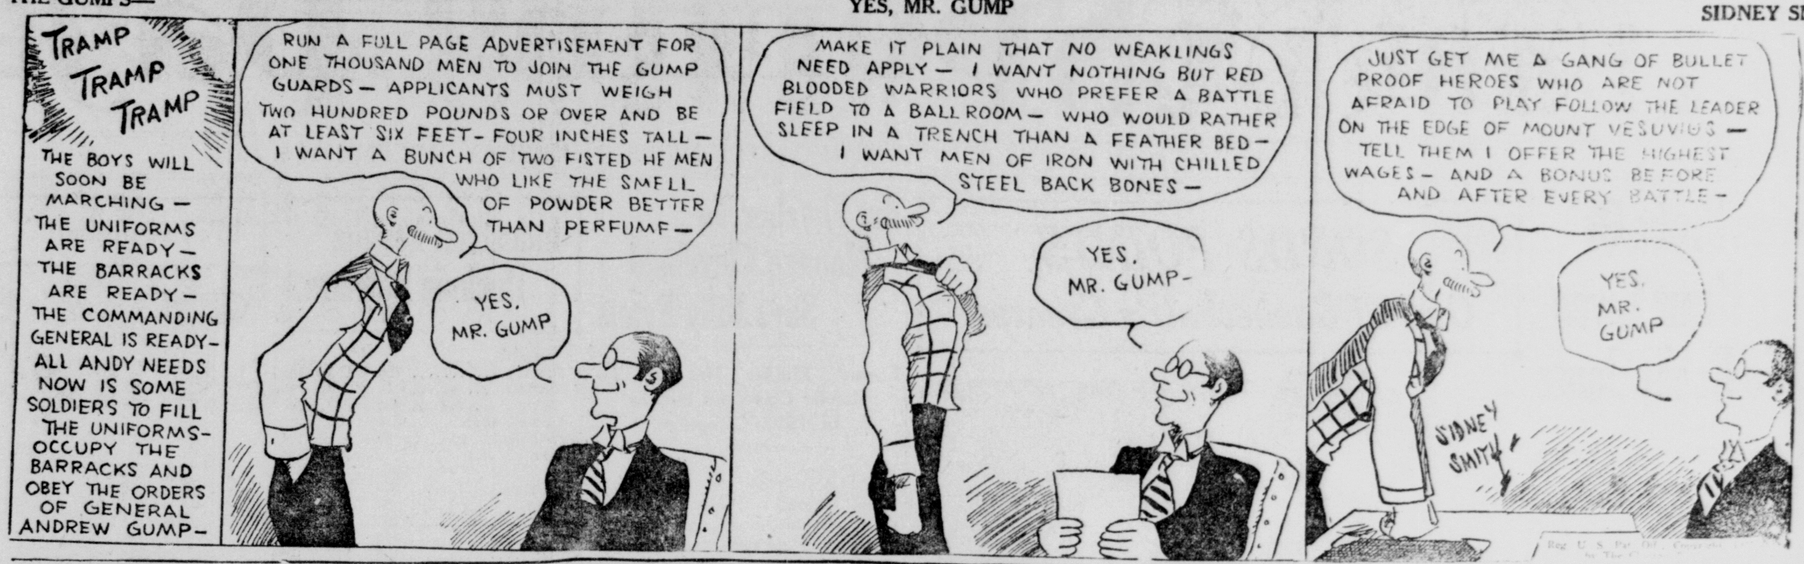

IDAHO WAS ORGANIZED AS A TERRITORY IN 1863 AND WAS ADMITTED TO THE UNION AS A STATE IN 1890. CONGRESS GAVE WYOMING A TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT IN 1868 AND THE TERRITORY BECAME A STATE IN 1890.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Reports that the United States Golf Association would "look into" the matter of that recent presentation of a $50,000 home in Atlanta to Bobby Jones were denied with vigor today by Herbert H. Ramsey, official mouthpiece of the association. The reports had their inception in a story printed locally, purporting to have inside information to the effect that British authorities were inclined to frown upon the present because it smacked of commercialism and that the American authorities, in self-defense might be forced to make an investigation of the circumstances.

Nothing could be further from the truth, according to Mr. Ramsey's statement to the writer. He said, that he, personally, and so far as he knew, other officials of the association as well were perfectly satisfied that the gift fell well within the bounds of amateur ethics. Incidentally, he expressed surprise that anyone could have obtained an official expression of opinion from abroad or that the English authorities were represented as h ing interested themselves in the cas

"I am satisfied, from our mutual experience, that England is content to preserve its own amateur ethics and to allow us to take care of our own," he declared. "Matters of this kind always have been settled to our mutual satisfaction without interference from the country not concerned. As to that, the Golf Association itself is not concerned, so far as I know, and neither can I say that I think there is anything to be settled."

BLOOD IS LIFE

Is your blood bad; have you pains in your bones and joints, swelling of the Glands, Boils, Pimples, Eczema, Old Sores that won't heal, rashes or breaking out of the skin? If so, see me at once. When your health has been undermined by worry or overwork, when your vitality is lowered, when you have that "don't care a rap" feeling, when your nerves are depressed, when your work appears too much for you, you are then in a run-down condition.

You may be an "old man" when actually young in years simply through neglect.

SORDS POINTS
One Of Basketball's Greatest

By JACK SORDS.

Basketball like football which attained its popularity though years of amateur playing is rapidly becoming one of the really popular professional sports. Each succeeding year seems to draw more fans to the game's favor.

Nat Holman of the Champion Celtics who plays basketball as you like to see it played is considered to be the world's outstanding individual player. His passing and team play together with his remarkable ability to shoot baskets will again aid the New Yorkers who in all probability will repeat their triumph of last winter They played under the banner of Brooklyn last year, taking over that team and a miserable record after the first half season of play was well under way. Naturally they were also runs after the first half but in the second they stepped out to show their class and easily led all the rest at the finish. In the play-off that followed with Cleveland the winners of the first half the Celtics won the championship in three straight games.

New Amendments To Baseball Code Is Indicated Today

Minor League Magnates Open Session At Dallas, Texas

(International News Service)

DALLAS, TEXAS, Dec. 8.—Recommendations of committee of league of presidents assigned to work out revisons to the constitution of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues are expected to be brought before the Minor League convention in its "get away" session today.

That some comparatively important amendments will be made is the consensus of baseball men.

Most important of all probably will be an expression by the association interpreting the Major-Minor League agreement of 1920 as being a seven year pact, whereby all leagues now in the selective player draft will be allowed to legally withdraw next April or to force a new agreement in which they may be able to institute some of the clauses at which they have been hammering for the last several seasons.

WILLIAM LEWIS

At a recent meeting of the Westminster faculty committee on athletics, William Lewis of Turtle Creek, a member of the junior class, was appointed student manager of the 1928 football team.

Lewis, in addition to his managerial activities, is a member of the varsity basketball squad, playing a forward position. He is affiliated with the Delta Phi Sigma fraternity.

Art Fletcher To Manage Cleveland Says Billy Evans

Former Phillies Manager To Handle Cleveland Indians In 1928 Campaign

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 8.—William "Billy" Evans, new director of the Cleveland club, was quoted as announcing before departing for home that Art Fletcher, late of the Phillies, would manage the Indians next season. Previously Evans had stated that he would make no statements along this line until after the major league meeting in New York.

Tris Speaker stated that as far as he knew he would be a member of the Washington club again next season. He is wintering at his home in Hubbard City, Texas.

The Forth Worth club of the Texas League announced the purchase of George Lafayette, first baseman, from the Dixie championship Wichita Falls club of the same circuit.

At the same time, Wichita Falls announced the purchase of first baseman George Stanton from Wilson, N. C., of the Virginia loop.

John McCloskey, manager of the Akron team in the new Central League, said he had purchased Don Benn, catcher, from the champion Fort Smith club of the Western Association, and outfielder Brodie Thompson from Quincy of the Three Eye Circuit.

Jack Holland, owner of the Oklahoma City club, announced the sale of outfielder Whitey Felber to Chattanooga.

Everett Scott, shortstop; Emil Meusel, outfielder, and pitcher, Joe Bush, were released outright by Toledo.

New Wilmington High Prepares For Coming Season

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8.—Pointing to a hard season the college town high school basketball team started practice yesterday evening with a squad of 22 men. With four of the fice 1927-27 letter men back in school Coach Wiggins has hopes of producing a championship team.

Last year the team carried off the county Class B. championship. The four last year's varsity men who reported for practice last night were Herriott, Davis, Paterson and Hutchison. Among the new men trying for a varsity berth Eagleson, Neal, Willis, McConell, Newton and Hartwell are showing up well.

Bill Amos Denies Signing Contract To Play Baseball

"Received Flattering Offer" Says W. & J. Star Fullback, But Have Not Signed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8. — Bill Amos, Wash-Jeff's crack all-around athlete, today denied the announcement by the Montreal club of the International League that he had signed to perform on the diamond for the Canadian club next season. Amos admitted he received a "flattering" offer, but he declared he rejected it as either a written or verbal agreement would have made him ineligible for the All-Eastern football team, which plays on the Pacific Coast Christmas Day, as well as the basketball and track teams at Wash-Jeff, on each of which Amos is a mainstay.

Changes already announced in major league training camps for next Spring are: Boston Red Sox, from New Orleans to Bradentown, Fla.; St. Louis Browns, from Tarpon Springs, Fla; to Palm Beach, and New York Giants, from Sarasota, Fla., to Augusta, Ga.

M's In Football

By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Many an "M" has won honors on the football fields, and stars like Eddie Mahan, "Brick" Muller and "Bo" McMillin are enshrined forever in the gridiron hall of fame. Eddie Mahan was one of Harvard's greatest; "Brick" Muller of California's "Wonder Team", could throw a football as far as any man that ever lived, while quarterback "Bo" McMillin of Center's "Praying Colonels", was not only a brilliant field general, but also a fine passer and ball carrier.

Ranking not far behind the above trio, and occupying well-earned places in their universities' rolls of honors, are such men as John J. McEwan of West Point, who later coached the Army and is now with Oregon; Johnny McGovern, the "Little Giant" of Minnesota; Johnny Maulbetsch, Michigan's human locomotive; McLaren, Pittsburgh's great fullback, and McCaa of Lafayette, who made one of the longest runs in football history.

The first M's ever chosen by Walter Camp on his all-American teams were Lee McClung of Yale, halfback on the 1890 and '91 honor roll, and Vance McCormick, also of Yale, who was chosen as quarter on the 1892 mythical eleven. Neither was the greatest at his position that ever went to Yale, but both were splendid players, who went on to even greater success in later life than they achieved in college.

There are plenty of M-stars for an all-M-erican team. For instance: ends, Muller of California and Merrillat of the Army; tackles, McGuire, of Chicago and Milstead of Yale; guards, Maxwell of Swarthmore and McMillen of Illinois; center, McEwan of West Point; quarter McMillin, Centre College; backs, "Red" Miller of Notre Dame; Mahan of Harvard and McLaren of Pittsburgh. And that's leaving out such fine ball carriers as Metoxen and Mount Pleasant of Carlisle, Meeker of Washington State, Morley of Columbia, Mohardt of Notre Dame, Martineau of Minnesota, Mallory of Yale, Macomber of Illinois and McBride of Syracuse.

Feg Murray Says—

No, Esmeralda, just because there are two halves on a football team, there are not necessarily four quarters.

The style in figure skating may be analyzed with four kinds of strokes, all made on the edges of the blade—the inside forward, the outside forward, the inside backward and the outside backward. The variety of evolutions which can be developed from these four movements is endless.

Penn State Team Plays Hillcrests Here On Saturday

Fast Youngstown Eleven To Battle Penn Staters At Ben Franklin Field

GAME TO START PROMPTLY AT 2:30

The Penn-State Auto Service football team will battle Hillcrests of Youngstown, O., at Ben Franklin high field on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The grid contest here for Saturday shapes up as a lively tussle with the locals out for a victory. In the first meeting of the year between these two teams the game ended in a deadlock. The Hillcrests have gone thru an undefeated season and are bent on taking the measure of the Penn-Staters.

It is understood that the Penn-State team will be strengthened for the Hillcrest game by the addition of George "Peg" Thomas to the roster. Thomas is a former New Castle high luminary and this year was a member of the Thiel varsity team. Jameson, former star of the Oil City high team, is also in the lineup of the local eleven.

Jackie Reider, former Marietta and University of Virginia grid star, is with the Penn-State team this season and is playing his usual brand of snappy football. Patton, the fastest man in the Penn-State backfield, is hoping for a dry field Saturday. If this youngster gets away in a broken field it's goodbye ball game, as the saying goes. Patton is the mainstay of the Penn-State backfield this year. Williams is another youth who will bear watching Saturday.

The Hillcrests are coming to New Castle touted to the skies as the class of the independent field in eastern Ohio, and are boasting of taking New Castle into camp this trip.

The officials for the game Saturday will be James Rugh (Penn), Gomer Emory (Rollins) and Corsan (Youngstown).

The racing posture of all the best speed skaters is practically the same. The back is kept straight and horizontal, the arms folded across the back except when spurting, then they are swung from side to side, keeping time to the stroke.

Plan Testimonial To "Tip" Richards

Committee Working On Plans For Big Spaghetti Dinner Here

PLAYS THREE YEARS FOR NEW CASTLE HI

A testimonial, in the form of a Spaghetti dinner, is being arranged by fans represented by Peter P. Capitolo and several committeemen in honor of Captain Charles (Tip) Richards who has played excellent football at New Castle high school for three years. He captained the squad this season. The banquet will be held at King Humbert Hall on the night of January 5.

At the banquet Richards who is one of the best liked athletes who ever wore the Red and Black in football and basketball will be presented with a token by football fans in remembrance for the high esteem in which he is held.

The committee has arranged to dispose of tickets to the public, $2.00 for gentlemen and $1.00 for ladies and it is believed that it will be one of the biggest testimonial dinners ever arranged for a local athlete.

Collegians Discuss Work Of College Y

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Howard Kelly of New Castle, and Wilbur Baldinger of Butler, were two of the speakers at the Y. M. C. A. meeting held in the Music Conservatory last night.

Donald McClure of Blairsville, president of the Westminster Y organization, in an attempt to get the viewpoint of the whole campus asked representative speakers to give short talks. A number of the men on the program were unable to be present due to conflicts with other engagements, but almost the entire group of 25 men present took part in the discission which followed the talks.

The general trend of the talks centered on the subject, "What Is Wrong With The Y. M. C. C. If Anything?" Student speakers pointed out the fact that it is not understood and hence does not have the general appeal to the men of the campus which it should.

New Castle Scout Troopers Are Guests

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 8.—At this week's meeting the New Wilmington troop of Boy Scouts entertained troop No. 13 of New Castle. In the course of the meeting the New Wilmington and New Castle troops staged a contest in knot-tying, a spell down in the scout law and a spell down in the scout flag ceremony.

Both troops engaged in the colorful opening and closing ceremonies and after the meeting a game of ping-pong was played, scout songs were sung and a solo was rendered by Scout Sewell of the local troop.

Jack Lewis, head of the local scout committee, a committee from New Castle troop 17 and Scoutmaster Schmit of the visiting troop were also present. It was arranged for the New Wilmington troop to visit troop 13 at their quarters in the First United Presbyterian church, New Castle, on Friday, December 16.

Another announcement made by Jack Hulme the local scoutmaster, was that the college town scouts would meet at Bobwhite camp this Saturday morning to take tests.

College Journalists To Have Convention

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 8.—Plans are being made by Clare Swisher of New Castle, editor of the Westminster Holcad, to entertain delegates representing Thiel, Allegheny and Washington and Jefferson at the regional conference of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic states here January 13 and 14.

Following a banquet on the evening of January 14 the delegates will have an opportunity to see the Westminster Titans in action on the home court, when Thiel and Westminster basketeers meet at eight o'clock.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

ROAMING AROUND, Dec. 8.—Globe trotting is becoming more and more the accepted practice of football elevens. The past season saw more intersectional games and more long journeys incurred in staging them than any preceding year.

The intersectional games staged by high school teams and the ever increasing broadening of such their schedules has been overlooked in the nation-wide interest focused on college elevens.

But right here in Pine Bluff, Ark., for instance, I ran onto a high school eleven that has not only taken in considerable territory but has set an enviable record while pitting its strength against high school elevens of many states.

Pine Bluff high school, coached by Allan Dunaway, has won 72 of the 78 games it has played in the last seven years. One ended in a tie. Five were lost.

In those seven years the team has journeye as far east as Ohio to find opposition, and has taken on leading high school elevens of Alabama, Oklahoma, Texas and Illinois on the home field.

Englewood high, from the Chicago suburb, visited Pine Bluff a year ago and defeated the Arkansas team 13 to 9 for one of the five defeats administered in the seven-year period. This year the Englewood team come south again—and was defeated, 7 to 0.

This year's victories include one over the Eufaula, Okla., high school team, winners of the Oklahoma state scholastic title last season, and one over Marshall, Texas, runners up in the Texas race a year ago. Eufaula fell 33 to 0 and Marshall was beaten 13 to 12.

Woodlawn, of Birmingham, suffered a 35 to 0 trouncing.

And while meeting outside teams with success year after year the Pine Bluff eleven has won the Arkansas state interscholastic title five out of the last seven years and the last three seasons in a row.

An interesting sidelight on the success of the team is the fact that Dunaway, the coach, came to the school without fame as a football player. He attended the Arkansas State Teachers college but did not break into the limelight there as a grid player, if he played.

He did, however, become a student of the game, attending summer coaching schools religiously.

Pine Bluff's 1928 schedule includes among other games, one with Stivers high of Dayton, O.; Englewood and Tuscaloosa, Ala., high school.

In an unofficial national championship game in 1925, Pine Bluff defeated the great Stivers high of Dayton, 65 to 0. Players from this school now are leading members of various colleges and universities. Robert Miller of Missouri, all-Valley guard this season, is a product of Pine Bluff. Barnett of Washington & Lee, Hicks of Alabama, Rucker and McCance of Tulane were members of the 1925 eleven.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Selling pressure was applied to the industrial stocks in the first period today, and the effects of Wednesday's closing rally were promptly wiped out. Losses of a point or more were sustained at the opening by a number of the high-priced speculative favorites, and bearish selling of U. S. Steel, General Motors, American Can and others was resumed with vigor.

U. S. Steel Common lost 2 points in the first hour, and sold at a new low for the movement at 240. General Motors duplicated yesterday's low price. Radio Corporation lost an additional 2 points at 90¼, and losses of a point or more were sustained by Westinghouse, American Smelting, Collins and Aikman, Corn Products, Houston Oil, New York Central and Greene Cananea.

Here is the most unusual picture of busy business men you have seen in some time. The picture is that of the boys who sell Collier's, the American Magazine and the Woman's Home Companion, all of which are handled in New Castle by the Treadwell News Company.

These are the lads who deliver your magazine to you every week or every month, depending upon the sort of magazine you take. Through the winter's sleet and the summer's sun, through stormy and balmy weather, they see that you get your magazine.

Not a millionaire among them, but think of the potentialities in this group. A future mayor of New Castle is probably among them, a future judge of Lawrence county, perhaps, a future president of a bank, a future successful merchant.

To these lads "big business" means a big magazine business for them. Their work is to see that you get your magazines on time and no big business man is more punctilious than they.

It's a rather remarkable gathering, not so much for what it represents now, perhaps, but for what the future holds for these lads. Look them over and see if you can recognize the lad who delivers your magazine.

The Crowell Publishing Company, which publishes the magazines the boys dispense, believes that it's responsibility goes beyond just printing and binding magazines. It believes that it has some responsibility for the boy's welfare and periodically they are called together by R. H. Arnold, the Crowell representative and given instructional talks.

The man in charge of the boys for the Treadwell Company is Edward Ryan and in the past twenty years Ed has watched many magazine boys grom into successful business men.

In the office is Miss Belle O'Brien who also takes more than an ordinary interest in the youngsters. The Treadwell News Company is headed by James T. Ray.

YOUNG WRITER TURNS TO OPERA

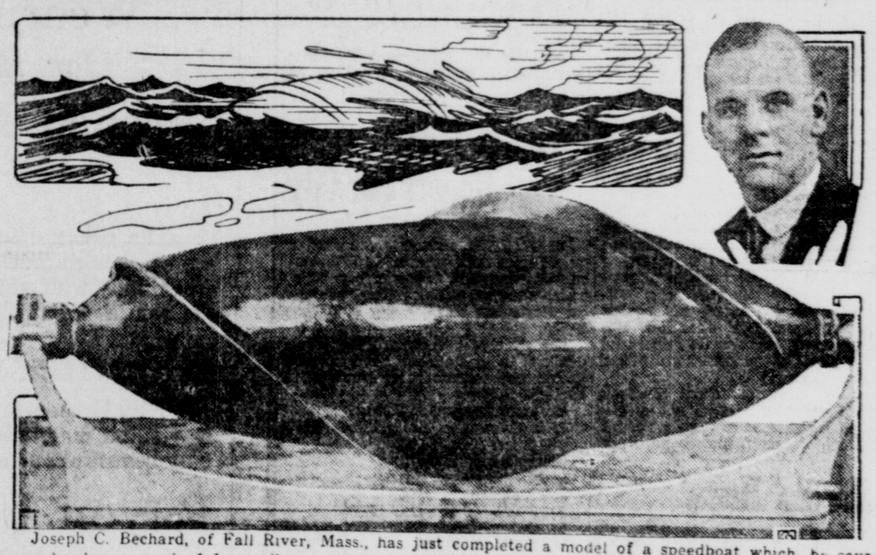

After achieving success as a novelist when scarcely 20, Miss Dorothy Speare, of Northampton, Mass., abandoned her literary efforts to study singing abroad. Now she has returned to the United States to make her debut with the Washington Opera company. She has continued her writing but as a pastime rather than a profession.

Elisco Indicted For Slaying Of Tony Di Rouso

Alleged Murderer Escaped After Shooting And Has Not Been Captured

CRIME FOLLOWED DRINKING PARTY

Final Returns Are Made By Grand Jury On List Of Cases Presented

Frank Elisco was indicted for the murder of Antonio DiRouso in returns made by the Lawrence county grand jury at court this morning. Elisco escaped after the murder and has not yet been apprehended. The crime was committed on November 20.

Elisco and Di Rouso were members of an automobile party. They had been riding about during a greater part of the night. When they stopped near St. Vitus church, an altercation occurred between Elisco and Di Rouso. The former drew a gun and shot Di Rouso in the abdomen. He died the next day in the New Castle hospital.

Other True Bills.

Other true bills returned by the grand jury were as follows:—Warren Costel, possessing liquor; Mary Mitchell, possessing liquor; Mable Boylan, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor; John Doe, alias "Red" alias Joe Chapman, fornication; Jim McBride and Joe Chapman, contributing to the delinquency of a minor child; John Bolin, manufacturing liquor; John Doe, alias Jim McBride, fornication; George Burton, sodomy; Roselee Martin, possessing liquor; Charles Fulwood, adultery; Thomas Jefferson, possessing liquor; Martin Kristyak, retaining electric storage battery more than ten days; George Reffel, possessing liquor; Mike Juzewczyk, possessing liquor; Anna Hench, manufacturing liquor; Kasimier Hench, manufacturing liquor; Thomas Butler, aggravated assault and battery; Mary Lukcha, Cesar Moline, alias Cesar Maline, possessing liquor; Daniel Borza, manufacturing liquor; W. W. In the case of Carl Madison, charged with fornication not a true bill was returned as to the first count, and a true bill as to the second count.

Childrens' Home Committee Meets

Second Meeting Of Family Welfare Group Takes Place Tonight

Because there had been little or no criticism directed against the Margaret Henry Home the committee on Child Welfare sponsored by the Community Chest survey adjourned to meet at the home Wednesday, December 14 at 3 o'clock at which time they will study the work done at the home.

Tonight at 7:30 the committee on Family Welfare and Relief will meet in the Chamber of Commerce roms, Greer building to consider the reports of three committees which have been working during the last week.

The first committee which has taken up a community lodging house for transient travelers is composed of H. B. Richards, Robert A. McKinney, Dr. C. C. Green, Mrs. J. L. Stratton and Mrs. H. L Gordon.

Considering a centralized social service administration headquarters, a committee headed by Robert McK. White and composed of F. A. Hover, Paul F. Butz and Mrs. H. M. Kirk will make a report.

Louis B. Round, heads the committee on Agency co-operation with the city and county authorities composed of M. B. Hogue, John Haley and Miss Della Glenn.

The general public is invited to this meeting, states Herbert Peairs who is conducting the survey of the Chest agencies and he would like a full attendance as he is sure that this will be an important meeting.

Pomona Grange Elects Officers

Quarterly Meeting Is Held In First Christian Church Of This City

New officers for the coming year were elected when the Lawrence County Pomona Grange held its quarterly meeting in the First Christian church Wednesday afternoon.

Officers for next year are: master, David F. Kyle; overseer, Stewart Hunt of Williard Grange; lecturer, Mrs. Kerr of Big Beaver Grange; steward, Scott Munnell of Williard Grange; assistant to the steward, Sharp Fullerton of Westfield Grange; chaplain, the Rev. Gregory of Williard Grange; treasurer, G. L. Reno of East New Castle Grange; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Hartzell of East New Castle Grange; gatekeeper, Ben McCleary of Plaingrove Grange; Ceres, Mrs. W. O. Mayberry of East Brook Grange; Pomona, Mrs. W. F. McCracken of Liberty Grange; Flora, Mrs. Edgar of New Bedford Grange, and lady assistant steward, Mrs. Mae B. Houk of Mahoning Valley Grange.

Committees were also appointed to serve during the coming year. On the executive committee John Glasser of Fairview was elected chairman, serving with the following: F. F. Forbes of Liberty Grange, H. H. Sherrard of Mahoning Valley, John W. Bronson of Big Beaver and James Kelso of Westfield. On the finance committee Joe Cameron of Liberty Grange was appointed chairman, with Al Weller of Westfield Grange and J. LeRoy Thompson of Wilmington Grange making up the balance of the committee.

Two sessions were held at the church, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Lunch was served at the church.

A report of the State Grange memorial fund, which is to be used to build a new girls' dormitory at the Pennsylvania State College, showed that Lawrence county Grange had contributed 100 per cent and had paid their quota of $3,600.

Special meetings were planned for February and March, at one of which a state lecturer will be present.

No New Years Party At The Castleton

Because 1928 will be ushered in on Sunday, there will be no New Year's party at The Castleton, as previously announced, stated John L. Slack, manager of the hotel this morning.

"We are very sorry that we cannot have a celebration," said Mr. Slack, "but we feel that it is better not to run the party over into Sunday morning, which would be sure to happen. Perhaps, however, we can stage a similar celebration at another time."

SHENANGO VALLEY HOSPITAL NOTES

Admitted — Gladys Booth, Croton avenue.

Discharged — Mrs. Mary Reynolds and baby, Mercer; Miss Jean McMillen, Hazelcroft avenue.

Permanent Guests Many At Castleton

As the time of The Castleton's existence increases the little colony of permanent guests who occupy the sixth floor of the house steadily grows, says John L. Slack, manager.

So far, there are 13 permanent guests in the house, and daily the front office is receiving inquiries as to rates.

Mr. Slack wishes to announce that rates for permanent guests are 40 per cent less than the regular charges.

Health Officer Tests Water Supply

Dr. William L. Steen, bacteriologist, tested 32 samples of milk, 24 samples of city water, 18 samples taken from wells and springs, according to a report to be given council Friday. He inspected vaccinations, filed 53 health certificates and issued one license to sell milk.

A sea shell held to the ear makes a sound like the waves because the shell acts as a sounding-board and magnifies the pulsing of the blood in the arteries of he head.

Another thing the ultimate consumer pays for is the towel some other guest stole from the hotel.
